Two die as truck, suburban collide near K-R Bridge.

Thruway accident early today sends five to hospital. (Anner photos).

5 Die in Crashes, 6 Taken to Hospitals

Five persons died in area vehicular accidents during the past 24 hours and six others are in hospitals—one on the "danger list"—in a grim preview of the long, much-feared Fourth of July weekend.

Three persons died in a three-car accident on Route 9 three miles south of Poughkeepsie late Tuesday and two in a collision between a dump truck and a 1952 suburban on the western approach to the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge Tuesday afternoon.

They are:
Miss Maureen Harte, age unknown, of Holmes, an International Business Machines employee, who was crushed behind the wheel of her car.

William T. Hoffman, 42, of Little Falls Trailer Park, thrown from his car and killed.
Keith Blanchard, 28, also of the Little Falls Trailer Park, a passenger in the Hoffman vehicle. Mr. Blanchard died today at Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Mishap Near Bridge
Elmer B. Small, 68, of Claryville, and his wife, Victoria, 71, who died when their 1952 suburban was in collision with a 1953 dump truck at the intersection of Routes 32 and 199 near the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. Mr. Small was pronounced dead on arrival at Kingston Hospital. Mrs. Small died at 7:05 a. m. today.

Harold G. Schaefer, 25, of Carmel, who was riding with Miss Harte in the accident near Poughkeepsie, was reported to be "on the danger list" late this morning at Vassar Brothers Hospital.

Crash on Thruway
Five other persons were in Kingston Hospital, none serious, after a tractor-trailer plowed into two parked vehicles on the Thruway five miles north of Kingston early this morning.

They are:
Everett E. Kirchmer, 31, of New Milford, N. J., contusion of the left shoulder and broken rib, in "apparently fair" condition.
Mrs. Kirchmer, 33, sprained ankle.
Everett Kirchmer Jr., 8, broken clavicle.
John Cruz Jr., 23, North Concord Air Force Base, North Concord, Vt., lacerations of the face and other possible injuries, "apparently fair."
Mrs. Cruz, 15, lacerations of the scalp and other possible injuries, "apparently fair."
Miss Harte, Mr. Hoffman and Mr. Blanchard died in the collision near Poughkeepsie.

Can't Explain
Leo Sperling, 49, of Wappingers Falls, also an IBM employee, told troopers his car was hit by one of the cars—the Harte car or the Hoffman car—but that he didn't know which one. He was uninjured. Mr. Sperling was unable to explain the accident.

The collision involving Mr. and Mrs. Small occurred at 3:45 p. m. at the intersection of Routes 32 and 199 on the western approach of the Kingston-

750 Die in Quake, 3,000 Are Missing

Tehran, Iran, July 3 (AP)—Rescue workers came across the bodies of 400 victims in two earthquake-devastated villages in northern Iran today. The discovery boosted the over-all death toll to 750. More than 3,000 persons are missing.

The rescue workers uncovered the victims in the villages of Tighband and Sangchal. They had not been listed in previous reports.

Property losses were also huge from yesterday's quakes ranging over a 500-mile arc in northern Iran extending up to the Soviet border.

The quakes spread death and damage over the Elburz mountain range, along the Caspian Sea's southern edge and up to the Soviet border on both sides of the sea.

Iranian officials estimated the property loss at more than 12½ million dollars.

They put the number of seriously injured at 1,500.

More than 100 villages were described by officials as wiped out and nearly 50 more partially damaged.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, who is vacationing in Switzerland with Queen Soraya, ordered large-scale relief operations for the stricken area, estimated to cover 50,000 square miles.

No fresh tremors were reported today but the frightened populace slept in the streets and fields last night.

Many roads were destroyed as a result of landslides. Telephone and telegraph lines were down between the small towns and villages of the stricken area. Messengers on horses provided the only means of communications.

There was no word of what happened on the Soviet side of the border. The Soviet Union's big Baku oil production center is on the western side of the Caspian.

Reiterates Offer to Halt Tests
Disputes Charge Stand on Civil Rights Extreme

Washington, July 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he will invite all other nations to make on-the-spot checks of radioactive fallout at any future U. S. atomic weapons tests.

Eisenhower made the statement at a news conference in repeating that American scientists are convinced that, given another four or five years, they can produce an absolutely clean hydrogen bomb.

Would Lose Advantage
Eisenhower also reiterated that the United States stands by its offer to suspend atomic weapons tests temporarily in an effort to reach agreement on disarmament.

Eisenhower said this country means to go through with that offer to Russia even though it may mean the loss of some scientific advantage gained from testing of weapons. He was speaking of advantages in connection with peaceful use of atomic power.

Eisenhower's remarks about inviting other nations—presumably including Russia—to observe and check for fallout at any future U. S. weapons tests came as he talked again about the possibility of producing an H-bomb free of radioactive fallout.

Open to All Nations
He said if this country ever holds another nuclear weapons test he is going to invite every country in the world to put up its rockets to test the amount of fallout.

In using the term rockets, Eisenhower was apparently referring to methods scientists use to measure fallout. At another point he used the word instruments instead of rockets.

Eisenhower, in response to a request for elaboration, said he did not mean that he would disclose U. S. atomic formulas to nations testing for fallout. But he said he would be glad to ask any nation to put testing instruments in there.

From Eisenhower's use of the word "there," it seemed he had in mind the invited nations

No Politics Are Involved: Reuter

New York, July 3 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman's chief investigator says he found an "absence of any evidence" that political influence helped to restore extortionist Joseph (Socks) Lanza to parole.

In an interim report to the governor, acting state investigation commissioner Arthur L. Reuter said yesterday his probe thus far resulted in "identification of political figures in both (political) parties with whom contact was made or sought by Lanza's relatives."

But, Reuter's 65-page report continued, the investigation showed the "absence of any evidence that any (political) individual actually influenced the decision to free Lanza."

Reuter's report consisted of two parts: one dealing specifically with his investigation of events surrounding the return of Lanza to parole and the other with the State Parole Board's system of dealing with parole cases.

He sharply criticized the Parole Board and declared:
"It is apparent that complete reliance cannot be placed upon parole records, including those of Lanza as to compliance with parole regulations."

Reuter also disclosed for the first time that James R. Stone, the parole commissioner who restored Lanza to parole, took the Fifth Amendment in declining to answer questions brought by Reuter.

No More Arrests Is Rule in Trailer Rift

An order staying further arrests in the Town of Ulster trailer ordinance controversy was made yesterday by Justice Francis Bergan of the Appellate Division, Supreme Court, until an appeal now pending before the court is determined.

That appeal will be argued on July 22 at Albany before the Appellate Division.

An application for a temporary stay was made to Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth in Supreme Court last month, seeking to stay further proceedings until the legality of the ordinance could be determined by the courts.

That application was denied

Union Says Cement Plants Won't Talk

A spokesman for the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Worker's Union, AFL-CIO, charged today that New York state cement-producing plants were steadfastly refusing to negotiate with the union whose 2,000 members went on strike Tuesday.

Won't Meet, He Says
Audin Straub of Catskill, district representative for the union, said he had been advised by the State Mediation Board, that "none of the plants wants to meet with us."

He said the union was maintaining pickets at each of the eight plants struck to date.

Pickets Stay On
Workers at the struck plants have joined a spreading nationwide work stoppage in the cement industry. Pickets are being maintained at each plant.

The union is seeking wage increases and other new benefits.

Halt Spreads
An Associated Press report from Philadelphia said the strike continued spreading slowly

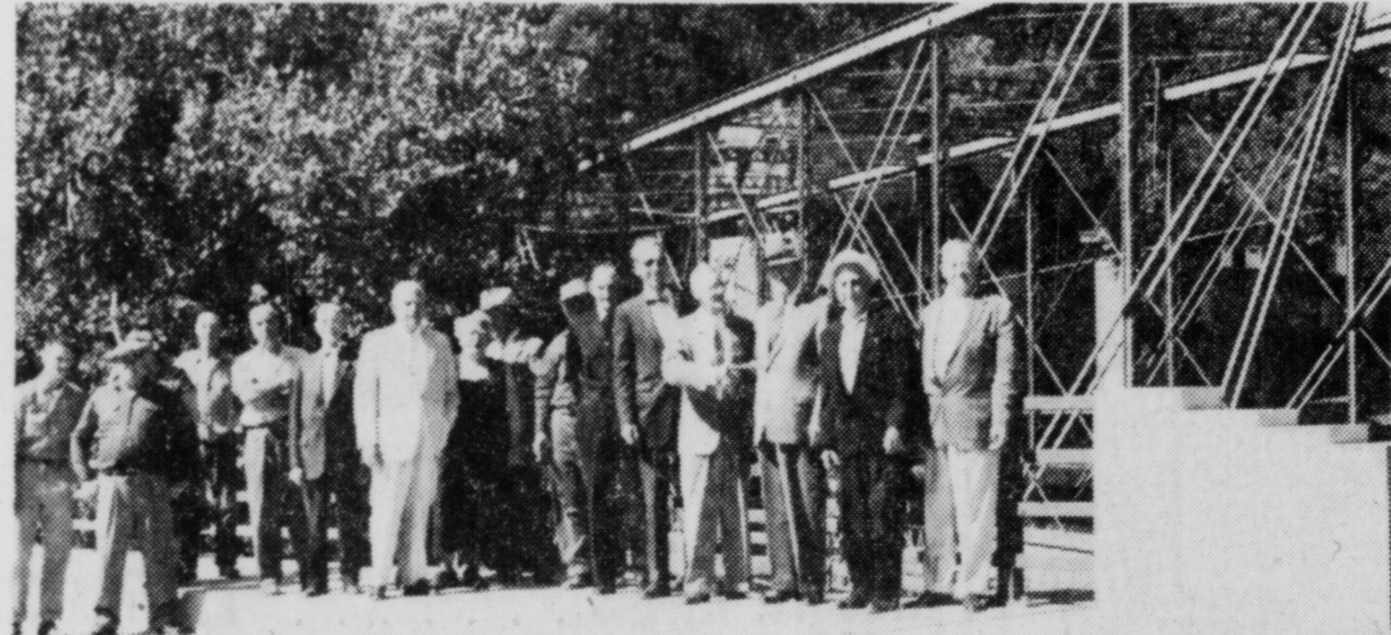

Cautious Driving Urged
30 State, 535 U. S. Deaths Predicted

Albany, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Unless "each driver makes sure it doesn't happen," 30 or more persons will die in New York state traffic accidents during the Fourth of July holiday, the state motor vehicle commissioner predicts.

The National Safety Council, meanwhile, predicted that 535 Americans will lose their lives in traffic during the holiday period that begins at 6 p. m. tonight and ends at midnight Sunday.

That number would top the record of 491 fatalities set during the four-day celebration of Independence Day in 1950.

The commissioner, Joseph P. Kelly, recalled yesterday that 156 people were killed in high-

UNOFFICIAL OPENING OF ROSENDALE BRIDGE — The newly completed Rosendale bridge over Rondout creek was "unofficially" opened Tuesday afternoon with a parade led by former Republican Supervisor Andrew J. Snyder and local Republican leaders. Mr. Snyder's car was the first across the new bridge at the end of Main street, followed by others in the procession. A move was begun about five years ago during Mr. Snyder's incumbency as supervisor to obtain the new bridge. Left to right, Ralph and under a show cause order the motion for a stay was argued yesterday afternoon before Justice Bergan of the Appellate Division at Albany.

John J. Schick and Aaron E. Klein appeared for the trailer camp operators and owners. Louis DiDonna, town attorney, appeared for the Town of Ulster in opposition to the stay.

Stays Enforcement
Following argument of the matter Justice Bergan signed a stay. This stays all enforcement of the Town of Ulster trailer ordinance by town officers, all administrative officers and employees until the Appellate Division can hear the appeal from Justice Elsworth's denial of the injunction application.

The Appellate Division will be in session on July 22 to hear the appeal. Whether a decision will be handed down at that time is not known but the order of Justice Bergan stays all further action by the town or its officials in the matter until the (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Onteora Budget, Trustees Will Be Voted On July 9th

Voting on a $1,037,188 school budget for the 1957-58 year and election of three trustees will take place during the annual meeting of Onteora Central School District Tuesday, July 9, at 8:30 p. m. in the gymnasium of the Boiceville school.

Estimated tax rates under the proposed budget show an increase for all areas of the school district, according to John H. Moehle, supervising principal.

Increases Listed
Under the new budget Woodstock's estimated tax rate per $1,000 assessed valuation will be $57.96, an increase of $3.58 over last year.

Other increases are:
Lexington, $45.79, new rate, increase of $9.33.
Shandaken, $24.14, new rate, increase of $1.48.
Olive, $54.34, new rate, increase of $3.44.
Hurley, $20.70, new rate, increase of $1.26.
Marbletown, $28.21, increase of $8.7.

Schools Included
The enlarged budget, Principal Moehle pointed out, will operate the enlarged central district and includes expenditures for the schools in West Hurley and the village of Woodstock, Spillway and Morgan Hill.

Mayor's $75,000 Bid Loses
McArdle Points To Election as Democratic Stall

A minor street maintenance sum of $10,000 was approved by the Common Council last night, but $75,000, requested for reconstruction and major repair, failed to gain approval after another night of long committee discussion and floor argument.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang renewed last month's bid for $25,000 to cover work on streets which require "more than mere patching of holes," and asked for $50,000 for continuance of the capital improvement program.

Two Republicans Join
The bid for $50,000 by bond issue lost by an 8-5 vote with minority members and Republicans Richard V. Roth, 12th ward and Samuel J. Perry, fifth ward opposing. A two-thirds vote would have been required to pass it.

The renewed bid for $25,000 lost by a 7-6 vote with the minority members and Alderman Perry opposing. The $10,000 was approved unanimously after reconsideration.

Mayor Stang's letter noted that the $10,000 approved was needed for such maintenance work as "patching holes, winter and summer repair of culverts, cutting weeds and brush, and repair of bridges and guard rails."

Measure Reconsidered
A first vote, like the poll on the other two sums, opposed authorizing the money, but after an explanation by Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy as to the work to be financed by the different appropriations, the measure was reconsidered in a second recess proposed by James K. Ryan (D.), 10th ward.

Confusion arose in the voting, however, because Ryan had previously proposed an amendment to cut the mayor's bid for $25,000 to $10,000 for major repair work, and some Aldermen through the vote was to be on that instead of the $10,000 for general highway maintenance.

Would Contract Work
A letter, signed by the six Democratic members, read at the session, indicated a sentiment toward completion of the capital improvement program by contract and the minority members listed several streets, which they held, needed reconstruction.

Our original feelings with regard to this program," said the letter, "was to request your honorable body (the BPW) to let all of this program out to private contractors. However, we feel that since you have completed one of the three streets (Hunter street) to which you are already committed, you may very well be able to handle at least a portion of this work, and contract the balance. We leave the disposition of this program up to your discretion."

List of Democrats
The streets listed by the Democrats were: Garden street, (incl. E. O'Reilly street) from Foxhall avenue to Broadway, in the third ward Second avenue, in the fourth ward, Delaware avenue to High street, and Elm street, Ravine street, seventh ward, Abel to German; Hone street, eighth ward, Spring to McEntee, Bond street and Brewster, ninth ward, Levan to Trenton, and VanBuren street tenth ward.

The streets listed, the letter said, were "the absolute minimum that should be completed during the coming year," and added, "if this much is not completed, we foresee an even greater and more serious condition for our streets in the spring of 1958, then we witnessed this past spring."

Last year, said the letter, "we spent $260,000 on the capital improvement program, and over (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

College Entrance For Korean Vets

Veteran enrollment remains high in American colleges and universities, according to the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and Howard Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency. Approximately one out of every four males in U. S. colleges and universities is a veteran enrolled under the Korean GI Bill, and it is expected that large numbers of veterans will attend schools of higher learning throughout the nation for at least the next five or six years. "Korean veterans who wish to take advantage of the educational benefits to which they are entitled and plan on enrolling this fall should take action now," said Director Shurter. "An application filed too late may result in the loss of opportunity to enter college because of high enrollment and crowded facilities." Veterans who feel they need further information and advice as to their entitlements and obligations under the Korean GI Bill and assistance in preparing for the fall semester were urged by Director Shurter to visit immediately the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency office at 32 Main street, Kingston or any of the branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Soviet Papers Trying to Be More Attractive

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Soviet Press is trying to make itself more interesting to its readers. If Joseph Stalin were to come back today, he would have a hard time recognizing some of the newspapers which used to devote most of their columns to eulogies of him. The innovations include human interest materials, more and more appealing photographs, broader use of cartoons and sketches, more verse, wider employment of varied kinds of type design, new fashions in presentation of news and propaganda. Pravda is pretty much the same paper it always was with only moderate alterations. But Komsomol Pravda, the Soviet youth paper, is trying to jazz itself up.

Take a recent copy: A photo shows a Soviet steel worker wiping the sweat off his brow and smiling. There have always been plenty of pictures of workers in Soviet newspapers, but the workers were always poker faced and never sweating.

A spread shows the work of a Polish Dramatic Club, and one photo features a good looking Polish girl. In the past attractive girls were extremely rare in Soviet papers. It apparently is no longer a dangerous thing to be pretty.

A headline on the back page reads "do you speak English?"—printed in English. It says some young people in the Ukraine have a special circle where they study English.

A neighboring piece shows Chinese twins named for a pair of Soviet destroyers which visited Shanghai last year. They were adopted by the crews of the respective warships. While this story has a political angle, it's on the soft-shell side.

A story with photos tells how special equipment was set up in Estonia to receive a telecast from Helsinki of a Soviet-Finnish soccer match.

The back page contains a serialized story of a Soviet war hero who fell prisoner to the Germans. (Formerly all POWs were unmentionable in the Soviet press.)

All papers, Komsomol Pravda included, still carrying boring editorials and boiler plate issued by the Soviet propaganda machine. But most Moscow newspapers are livelier than they used to be.

Briefly Told

Green Island, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Scores of children celebrated an impromptu watermelon festival after the rear gate of a truck swung open. About 150 melons tumbled over a road as the truck made a turn in this community near Troy Monday. Most were broken but that did not discourage the youngsters, and some adults, from scrambling for a snack. The seeds, rinds and juice left the highway as slippery as after a sleet storm. Sanding trucks were called out.

Lewis, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Edward Russell, 47, of Plattsburgh, was killed and another man injured yesterday when a power pole on which they were perched toppled to the ground. Glen Prentice, also of Plattsburgh, was taken to Physicians Hospital at nearby Plattsburgh with chest injuries. The men worked for the Bradley and Williams Co. of Syracuse, under contract with the New York State Electric and Gas Co.

Albany, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Donald S. Taylor yesterday denied a motion to transfer trial of a $200,000 slander suit against former Conservation Commissioner Louis A. Wehle to Jefferson county.

Dr. E. Leonard Cheatum, who heads the Conservation Department's game bureau, is suing Wehle because of charges Wehle made after the death of a large number of pheasants on a state game farm. Wehle blamed Cheatum for the deaths in a speech before a sportsmen's group in Watertown. Taylor also denied Wehle absolute privilege as a department head in making the charge against Cheatum.

Utica, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Production workers at the Utica plant of the Remington Rand Division of the Sperry-Rand Corp. yesterday chose the International Assn. of Machinists as their bargaining agent.

The IAM received 308 votes to 79 for the International Union of Electric Workers. Nineteen voted for no union.

The National Labor Relations Board, which conducted the election, said 406 of the 549 eligible employees voted.

The plant produces electronic data processing materials.

Sayre, Pa., July 3 (AP)—Traffic on the main line of the Lackawanna Railroad was held up more than an hour yesterday by a fire on a bridge.

A boxcar in a train was ignited by the fire that broke out as the train was crossing the 50-foot span. The train was stopped at Owego, N. Y., and the blaze extinguished.

Sayre and railroad police said it was possible that a hat box on an earlier train had set fire to ties on the concrete bridge.

Local IBM Plant Gets 9 Grads of Engineer Course

Ninety-one field engineering graduates are leaving IBM Kingston for SAGE sites from coast to coast. Nine other graduates will remain at the IBM Kingston plant. The graduates received diplomas at the seventh field engineering graduation on Wednesday, June 26, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Main speaker at the ceremony was Glenn L. Solomon, executive assistant to the general manager of the Military Products Division.

The diplomas were presented to the graduates by R. C. Sampson, manager of field engineering. R. P. Crago, general manager of IBM Kingston Military Products, congratulated the recipients.

Average age of the graduates is 25 years. They came to IBM

Kingston from 90 cities in 35 states. Eighty-nine per cent are military veterans and 79 per cent received military technical training.

Assigned to the IBM Kingston plant test area are Stephen J. Fraser, John Schlegel and Kenneth L. Hoenberg. Remaining at IBM Kingston as field engineering instructors are Theodore Hein, Robert B. Sell, Harley O. Wehrly and Everett G. Vail Jr.

Named laboratory technician at IBM Kingston field engineering education is Harland C. Bickel.

Assigned to field engineering technical data department as a technician is Freeman D. Lewis.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 3, 1957

There will be no publication of the Kingston Daily Freeman Thursday, July 4 in observance of Independence Day.

JULY FOURTH—1776 AND 1957

Things have turned upside down since the Declaration of Independence was signed 181 years ago. The current position of the United States could never have been forecast by those who signed their names at the bottom of that deathless document.

America was the youngest nation then. Ghana, in Africa, is now. America was one of the weakest nations. It is the strongest now.

England and France were the world leaders then.

The responsibility for the peace and welfare of the world has been thrust upon us in the last few years.

Perhaps, upon re-reading the Declaration in the light of our recent experiences as a nation, we may see the England of 181 years ago in a slightly clearer light. And as the words are scanned, there may arise certain sympathies for that great mother nation juggling—and fumbling—some of the responsibilities which we know only too well today.

There are haunting phrases in the Declaration—

The colonists complained that the king "has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without consent of our legislatures."

They said the king was wrong in "protecting them (his soldiers) by a mock trial from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states."

They said the king had "plundered our seas, ravished our coasts, burnt our towns . . ."

The king was accused by the colonists of exciting "domestic insurrections amongst us . . ."

They complained of attempts "to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us."

The propaganda of our present-day antagonist makes these bitter accusations sound mild. Occupation forces in foreign lands . . . the Girard case . . . Asiatic complaints about our H-bomb tests . . . loud acrimony from the Middle East. If you were to swallow the Reds' propaganda pills whole, you might think our foreign policies as reprehensible as King George's.

While the English soldiers in Boston had to face the taunt of "Lobster-back" from the small fry there, our own troops must ignore the chalked "Yankee, go home" which adorns walls in foreign lands where they patrol.

Doubtless there are many among us who wish our position was a simple one which could be solved by a new Declaration of Independence—a declaration to the world that we are tired of trying to help and paying the bill and being told to go home.

But we cannot. Our good will and moral principles are the mortar which holds the world together.

Benighted England, at the time of the American Revolution, may have been greedy for power and profit. Let the historians argue this. But we are interested only in the welfare of free men and our own self-existence.

Our only stake in world affairs is represented in the holiday we celebrate today—in memory of a great step toward a more equitable life taken by mankind in the foundation of this republic.

The struggle for liberty is an unending one. It goes on, hour by hour and day by day, endlessly. We cannot turn our backs on our world duties. We cannot let down those nations which have at least a measure of freedom and the citizens of those others who look pleadingly in our direction.

Despite the confusion of propaganda, our real friends in foreign lands recognize our contribution and express it plainly.

As the New Chronicle of London warned: "Anything that encourages the United

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
ON HOW TO MAKE IT EASY

Some months ago I received an interesting and indignant letter from a lady teacher, age 29, who apparently believes that if children hate to learn anything, the teacher should make the dose homeopathic so that the student will somehow get culture. It is an idea, like a salt-free diet which is food too, but whether for man or horse, is not stipulated.

This young lady who is earnest and sincere writes:

"At . . . Junior High School . . . the music instructor is so outstanding that she can, after working with her students, pretty much judge the abilities of that student. So she re-writes the musical selections to suit the talents of each student, and from that point, works on to the more difficult scores. But she has captured their interest by providing them with an initially successful musical experience."

This is indeed a very good idea, making Mozart and Shostakovich easy for the youngster. Prokofiev did it in "Peter and the Wolf," after listening to which a child should know the particular characteristic of each musical instrument. However, the maracas, the bongo drums and similar instruments have been omitted by Prokofiev who probably was unacquainted with modified savagery. Perhaps someone will turn Mozart's Symphony No. 40 into calypso and earn a fortune thereby.

"Midsummer Night's Dream" could be used because it contains the famous "Wedding March" to which fathers take their daughters to the altar at least for their first marriage. I have heard that bit played in many different arrangements, most of which Mendelssohn could not possibly have recognized.

It would seem to me that the music instructor heretofore described might accomplish as much if instead of re-arranging other men's musical ideas, she wrote some of her own. Nothing is easier. Anyone who can rhyme moon and June, can compose a tune for it.

Contrasting the ease of handling all this by homeopathic doses, by correspondent tells of a musician who failed:

"At . . . Junior High School, the instructor had been a first violinist for the Chicago Symphony. He was an expert musician, with the taste and cultural background you feel is so lacking. Unfortunately, however, he had no talent for transmitting his knowledge and talent to the students. You see, contrary to the current popular theory, it takes more than a knowledge of music, science, physics, or anything (sic) other subject matter, to teach it successfully."

Alas! He believed in truth and virtue. He hoped perhaps to produce a George Gershwin. He imagined that out of the hundreds of children who might pass under his tutelage one bright star might emerge, perhaps a Brahms or even a Dimitri Tiomkin. Poor man! He knew his subject but he could not beat it into the brains of the young devils who no longer need to know anything because they can see it on television or hear it in a juke box. So, he failed.

My correspondent is a practical person who honestly tries to give what she gets paid for. She writes me:

"As for me, I was not dedicated enough to invest any of my $175 a month take-home pay in school equipment, since it has always been my philosophy that if the taxpayers prefer to spend more on tobacco, alcohol, movies, and TV sets than on educating their children, I did not intend to spend hours after school or money on school projects. But nevertheless, I tried to spark some interest in music with recordings, stories of the music, and I recall we even acted out a part of Tannhauser. I hoped that perhaps later, when a fragment of something they had heard and become familiar with in class, came over the radio, they would say 'Stop' when dad comes roaring over to turn from the symphony to the ball game."

She might have written "Stop, Please!" or "Dad, please let me listen to Wagner. Although he cannot play baseball, he did write some pretty good music which I am just beginning to enjoy. Someday, I shall go to the Metropolitan and listen to 'Parsifal,' and then you will know that I have emerged from my low social status and have become a cultured gentleman."

If Pop doesn't wallow him, it is because at a P.T.A. meeting he heard a psychologist say that wallowing gives children an inferiority complex and that is why they become juvenile delinquents and rape and murder their classmates. (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Thousands Troubled Each

Year by Poisonous Plants

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

Last year after discussing poison ivy, I received an interesting letter from Mr. T.

He said that when he was a boy he used to tease his playmates by whittling on a piece of poison ivy. If his friends came near they acquired the poison ivy rash. But it never affected him until his early 20's. Then he suffered badly from it on forearms and legs.

For treatment, he said, "I took an old case knife and scraped the little white blisters until they were all open. I had prepared a mixture of black gunpowder and sweet cream, skimmed off of fresh sweet milk and mixed it until it was a heavy liquid of almost the consistency of cold molasses. I smeared that on the recently scraped-open blisters.

"Naturally," he said, "it set me on fire somewhat."

This is interesting, but I should certainly not recommend such treatment to anyone else.

THE QUESTION of what to do about poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac is a recurring problem to thousands and possibly millions of people each year. A bad case is no joke. Indeed, it has been estimated that some 350,000 people get into trouble with poison ivy each year. The total time lost runs around 6,000 days.

My first recommendation is that everyone should learn to recognize poison oak, ivy and sumac. Sensitive people should stay away from these plants, even the smoke when they are being burned. Those who think they are not sensitive should also be careful because they never know when their apparent resistance may leave.

IF THERE IS much chance of accidental exposure, clothing should be worn on those parts of the skin which may be exposed. This includes the use of gloves. Incidentally, the poison from these plants often rubs off on the clothing in sufficient quantities so that the clothing itself can cause skin trouble.

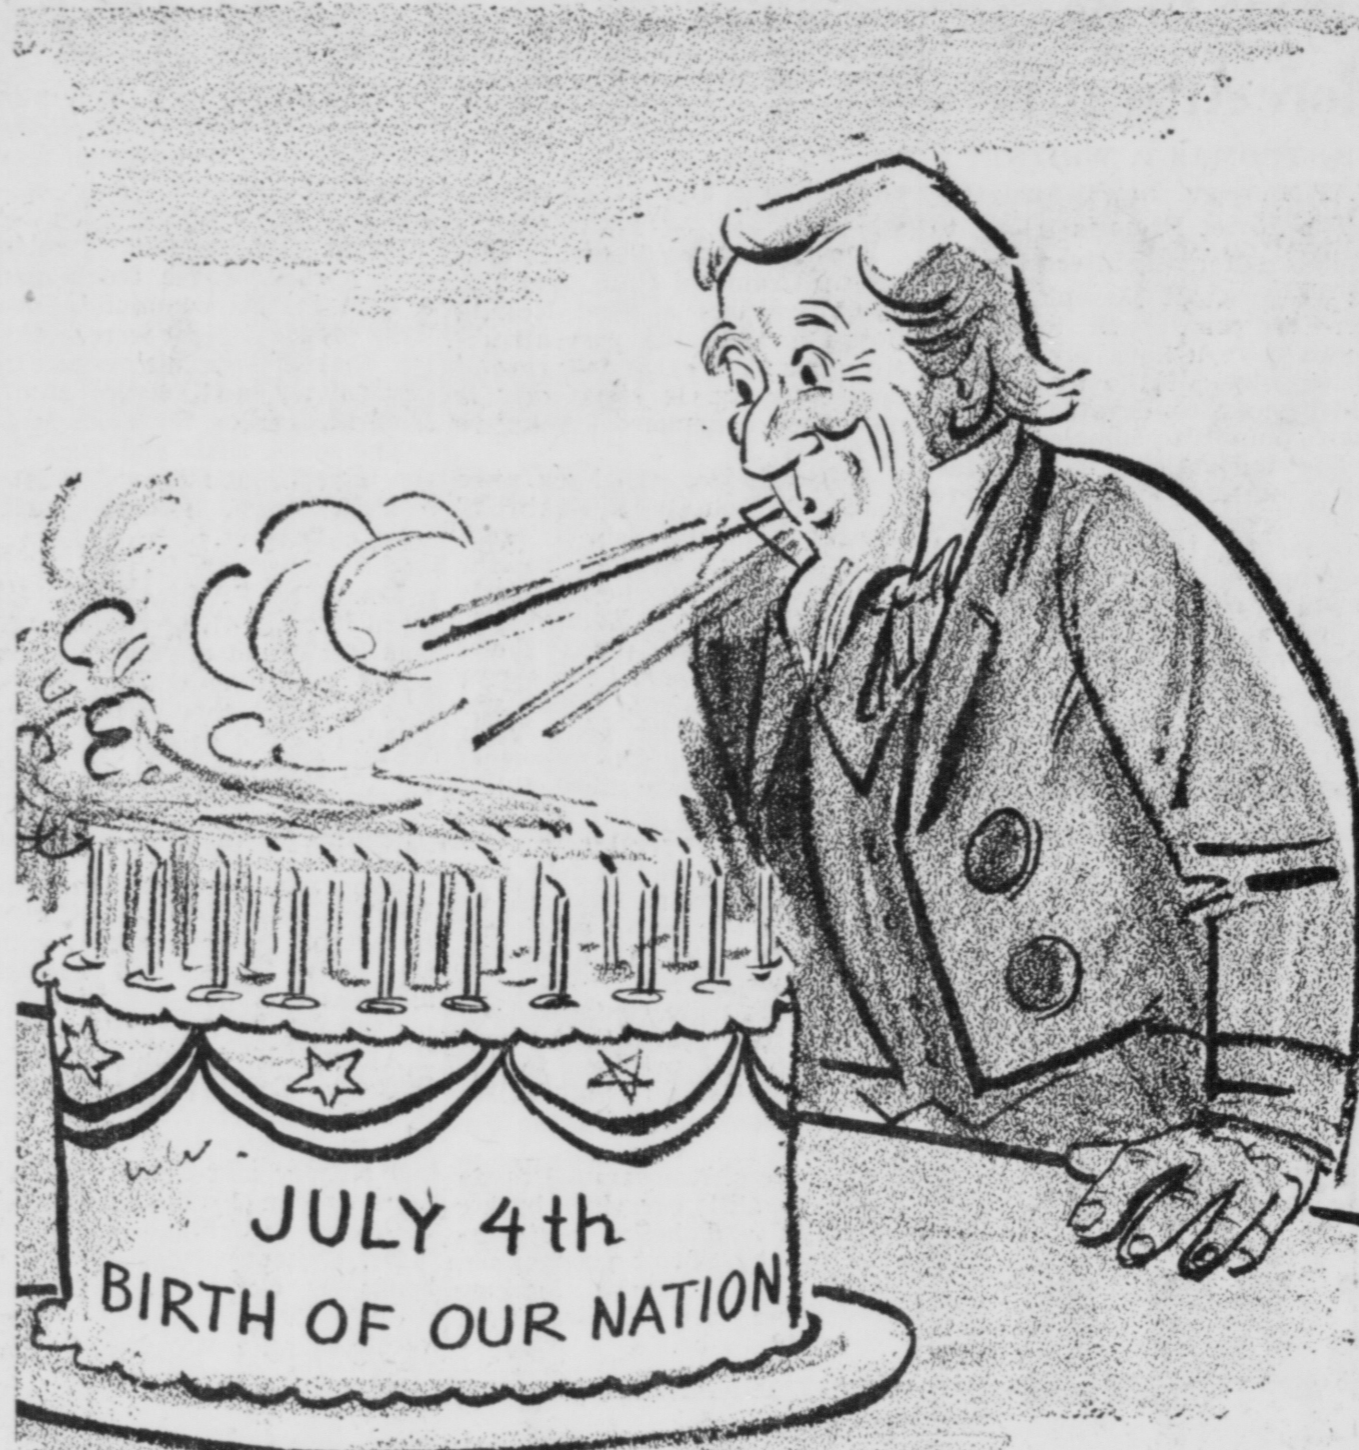

There are ointments or creams which are said to give a certain amount of protection, though I have no personal information on them.

IF ONE KNOWS of exposure immediately, probably the best thing is to wash the exposed skin carefully with soap and water several times. Follow each washing with careful rinsing. If this is done soon enough after exposure it may prevent more serious difficulty.

States to withdraw into 'Fortress America' is bad for the free world."

Why is it a woman will never be satisfied until she owns the very latest kitchen range, then insists on cooking on a grill over 25 cents worth of charcoal?

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Federal Flood Indemnity Administration will pass out of existence in July—the shortest-lived government agency in history. It never wrote a policy.

FFIA was authorized on the last day of the last session of Congress, without a record vote. It was killed in the House of Representatives 10 months later by the simple process of denying it money with which to operate.

The vote was 58 Republicans and 128 Democrats for a total of 186 votes in favor of keeping the outfit going, to 128 Republicans and 90 Democrats for a total of 218 against it. What happened to bring about this strange reversal of the congressional opinion is the cause for much political speculation. It's a good case history on why things happen the way they do in Washington, defying all rhyme and reason.

THE BIG FLOODS which brought on the demand for flood insurance came after the disastrous hurricane summer of 1955. There were not serious floods in 1956. But they were still cleaning up the debris in 1956. And the memory of what had hit the eastern seaboard from North Carolina to New England made flood insurance a good political talking point for the '56 elections.

Representatives Edward Boland (D-Mass.), Frank Thompson Jr., (D-N. J.), Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) and Graham Barden (D-N. C.), whose states had all been hit hard in '55, led the fight for flood insurance in '56. They put it over in spite of the opposition from Rep. Brent Spence (D-Ky.), chairman of Banking and Currency Committee. It breezed through the Senate.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

July 3, 1937 — Fred Zimmerman, of Gage street, was fatally injured when struck by a West Shore passenger train south of the Broadway crossing.

The plane of Amelia Earhart was reported down near the equator between Howland Island and the Gilbert Islands.

County Treasurer Pratt Boice reported receiving a check of $63,242.04 as the county's share of state aid for highways.

July 3, 1947 — Work was expected to start before the end of summer on reconstruction of Route 228 between West Hurley and Cold Brook.

Reports of fair weather for the holiday indicated a heavy rush of traffic in the area.

Donald Duane, U. S. Air Force veteran, was named a village policeman at Woodstock.

Mrs. John Ziros, of Lindsley avenue, died July 2.

relief was what they were looking for.

FINALLY, THERE was a good demonstration that the best kind of flood insurance was flood prevention through dams and reservoirs to catch the runoff water and hold back floods.

Army Engineers have a 1.5-billion-dollar flood-prevention program for the six-state south-western area. It has 400 million dollars' worth of projects completed, 600 million more under construction and 500 million authorized but not yet started.

The completed works are estimated to have prevented 142 million dollars' additional damage. The authorized works could have prevented another 50 million dollars' damage.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) made a speech about the Texas part of this program. It was the tipoff. It revealed that in this part of the country, a dam in the hamlet of a whole flock of flood insurance in the bushes.

That's why Federal Flood Indemnity Administration got the congressional ax and is being buried.

But if a new series of floods comes along this summer and they want to revive FFIA, the plans are all ready.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The International Labor Office, a relic of the old League of Nations, grafted onto the United Nations, recently rewarded an extreme Roosevelt New Dealer with a contract of employment of indefinite duration, possibly a life-term, at $20,000 a year. This pay is free of income taxes and is enlarged by "fringe benefits" so that, altogether, David A. Morse will get about the equivalent of a state-side income of $35,000 a year. Morse lives in Geneva. He enjoys "diplomatic status" and luxuries. His office is a beautiful suite in a palace on the shore of Lake Geneva.

The ILO is exceeded in utility by the U. S. Information Agency, the central Intelligence Agency, but by few other parasite bureaus.

With one intermission of five years, Morse has been at the public trough ever since 1933, when his eye to the future spotted a job in the Department of the Interior. He joined the Labor Relations Board in 1935, when it was heavily infested with communists. Morse, however, never has been accused of that political taint. In 1945 and 1946, he was general counsel of the board in Washington. A later incumbent said the general counsel is expected to serve the unions.

Morse killed time as Acting Secretary of Labor for Truman until he went to Geneva in 1948 as director of the ILO. His work there has so well pleased the Soviet Union, India and Egypt that on May 31, at a meeting in Geneva, they voted to extend his tenure five years beyond his present term, which ends in September, 1958. He then

Law Clerks' Role in Rulings By High Court Questioned

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 3 — The Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives wants to know how far the recent decisions of the Supreme Court go toward limiting or crippling the investigative powers of Congress. So a special committee of five members has been appointed to conduct an inquiry.

But before any such inquiry can be effective, will the House of Representatives accept the Supreme Court's edict and pass a resolution stating exactly what it wishes to investigate, and, if it should decide to call any witnesses, will the committee make clear in advance just what the witnesses are to be asked?

Any investigation probably will be useless unless the House of Representatives is prepared to assert fully its prerogatives under the Constitution, which says each House can make its own rules governing its proceedings.

There are lots of things about the operations of the Supreme Court of the United States which, under the "right to know" doctrine, Congress can seek to learn.

There is, for example, the role of "law clerks." Maybe they ought to be summoned to testify to explain recent decisions. Some of these aids are brilliant students of the law and perhaps know more about newfangled reasoning in the so-called "liberal" decisions that do some of the justices themselves.

In the March, 1956, issue of "The California Law Review," for instance, there was published an article entitled "The Federal Loyalty-Security Program: A Proposed Statute." One of its three authors was Graham B. Moody Jr., who was described in a footnote as "head law clerk to the Chief Justice of the United States."

Bill Proposed — Mr. Moody, in this article proposed a bill which Congress was evidently urged to enact in place of the executive order setting forth the President's loyalty and security program. It was this order whose scope was subsequently modified by the Supreme Court's decision in the Cole case. Among the recommendations of the suggested bill is the point that a distinction should be made between employees in "security-sensitive" agencies and ordinary employees of the government.

The Supreme Court itself had under consideration at the time the Cole case and, in a decision handed down on June 11, 1956, made just such a distinction. The Court said that the Congress didn't mean to allow non-sensitive agencies to be covered by the President's regulations.

Mr. Moody left the service of the Chief Justice a few days after the decision in the Cole case was handed down, as the term of the court ended. Mr. Moody, of course, had just as much right to publish his article as the justices themselves seem to assert off the bench in making public speeches on controversial issues of the day.

Some Justifiable — Unquestionably Mr. Moody knows a lot about the powers of Congress in these matters and, in the article in "The California Law Review" which he co-authored, a footnote occurs: "For what it may be worth, it is the writers' belief that some type of Federal security program is both politically and socially justifiable." But the article points out that Congress should exclude from consideration as charges by any executive department against any employee such things as the signing of petitions, presence "at a gathering of two or more people," use of an alias, attendance at educational institution, travel outside the United States. It isn't clear from the article whether all questions relative to such points would be barred from inquiry or merely omitted in setting up "standards" to assure that discharges from government employment would not occur solely on account of their "associations" or "passive activity."

Borne Out by Court

Mr. Moody's point of view seems to have been borne out or confirmed in the Supreme Court decisions which followed. This would appear to indicate that, while the justices themselves might decline to testify before the new committee of the House, maybe the talented law clerks could shed some light on the reasoning processes of some of the justices. For the court now holds that individual rights virtually supersede the right of the nation to protect itself against subversion. It accepts the so-called "liberal" view that Congressional investigators have no right under the Constitution to compel answers from witnesses if the questions relate to beliefs, past associations or "political" concepts. The world "political" presumably now covers the Communist party, though Congress has refused to dignify the Communist organization as a legitimate political party in this country but holds it to be the agent of a foreign power hostile to the interests of the United States.

The House Judiciary Committee will not get very far with its inquiry unless it is prepared to investigate the processes of the Supreme Court itself. For the American people have the right to find out who writes the decisions of the Supreme Court today—the justices or their "law clerks." If the "law clerks" have such influence, should not each perhaps be recognized with the title of "assistant justice" and be appointed heretofore subject to confirmation by the Senate, just as are the justices themselves and the "policy-making" officials who assist the top-level members of the executive branch of the government? (Reproduction rights reserved) capture Montgomery Ward's employees and their fees and dues.

The U. S. government recently sent 35 employees to a big hula-balloo at Geneva in honor of Morse. They were gone 22 days and the cost will be paid in the sweat of those who toil. The chief of the mission was J. Ernest Wilkins, of Chicago, who stepped into Spencer Miller's job when Miller was canned just in time to go to his wife's deathbed and funeral.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is now weighing a proposal to raise the American contribution to the ILO from $1,750,000 to $3,000,000. There are 78 "member nations" but the American share of the load is 25 per cent.

William L. McGrath, a Cincinnati manufacturer, served as this country's employer member for three years and he has damned the whole thing as a propaganda forum for "statism" and socialism. He says the United States ought to pull out and let it crash. (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

$10,000 Approved

$90,000 on the street maintenance program only to find, this spring, that the general street condition was even worse than previous years.

Says Program Impartial

George F. McArdle (R) 13th ward, arguing for a vote on the sums requested by the mayor, said that last year, even though he knew that 70 per cent of the work was to be done in the wards of Democratic aldermen, he voted for the program without complaint.

The public works department, he said, "has a big job, and I don't think any favoritism is being shown." Last year, he said, a good job was done, without complaints, and now when less money is sought, there are complaints, and "all sort of upheaval."

Because of the work done last year, he said, "I feel that the mayor should be given a vote of confidence." Instead, however, he said, it appears that this is an election year, and politics enters the picture.

Ryan said it might be true that the majority of the work last year was done in the wards of Democratic aldermen, but he felt that the repair was needed or it would not have been done. Street work in the tenth, he said, had been neglected for years.

Commenting on last year's $260,000, he indicated that minority members expected to get "more accomplished." Supervision, he said, was picked on, because of this, and he held "The Democrats don't stand alone on that."

Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk, in calling for the votes on the sums requested, proposed a poll first on the minority report of the finance committee, and if it were passed it could be considered a minority report.

Asks for Vote

Objections arose, and McArdle, a committee member, proposed waiving the report in favor of a vote by the council as a whole on the measures.

Some aldermen felt that a substantial amount of the $100,000 granted for capital improvement was still unexpended, and could not see authorizing the requested $50,000 at this time.

Mayor Stang's letter noted that he had requested $150,000 at the March meeting, and that "After some discussion and conferences, your honorable body approved an appropriation of $100,000."

This was for start of work on Hunter and Pearl streets and Manor avenue. Work on the first has been finished and is started on the others, he said.

Mayor Reports

"I am pleased to report," said the mayor, "that Hunter street has been completed at an amount less than originally anticipated, (the exact figure is not available at this writing).

It was his belief, the mayor said, that the projects would be completed "within the month" and that Lucas avenue from Washington avenue to Green street "is next on the list."

In order that "work may progress in an orderly manner without interruption or cessation because of lack of funds, I respectfully request that your honorable body make available the balance of my original request ($50,000) . . . so that more of the streets on the original list may be improved."

In his letter asking for the $25,000 "to take care of streets that needed more than cursory attention," the mayor said, he had read in the press that his bid was denied, in part, because he "failed to state what streets were to be fixed."

"If you will recall," he said, "at a conference here in my office, with all members of the council present, I told your group that I had certain streets in mind, but did not wish to release the names, because, in the event that all were not finished, I would be charged with breaking my word."

Names Some Streets

"I can, and will, at this time, give you the names of some streets that I believe could be adequately repaired under this requested appropriation. They are Kierstedt avenue, part of First avenue (the remainder of First avenue to be built as a capital improvement) Madden street, Arlington Place, Bruyn avenue, and Bond street."

He said, however, he wanted to "make it crystal clear that it is not to be construed, that if the $25,000 is made available, all of these streets will be completed in the order named. Their order of improvement will be determined by the Board of Public Works, and the amount to be expended on each street will be determined as the work on the street progresses."

Says Council Responsible

A "token appropriation" as was once suggested, he said, "is not sufficient." It was his belief, he said, that "the work that can be accomplished under this appropriation, will amply justify a request, later on, for some of the same."

While the condition of streets is a responsibility of the BPW, he said, "it is likewise the responsibility" of the council, "to make available the funds necessary, and in sufficient amount to accomplish the job that should be done."

In his request for the $10,000 for highway maintenance, he said, that phase of the work covered many items, such as patching holes, winter and summer, repair of culverts, cutting weeds and brush, and repair of bridges and guard rails.

In his June letter, he noted, he advised that when he first submitted the 1957 budget, an item of $50,000 was in it for highway maintenance. This was cut by $10,000, and was less than provided for in the 1956 budget.

"If we are to continue the practice of patching holes, cutting weeds, brush, etc., it is absolutely necessary to provide additional funds for highway maintenance. Therefore, I respectfully request and urge that you make available the additional sum of $10,000, by approving a budget note in that amount."

This, he said, was separate from the $25,000, and he noted that "after the next payroll period, the highway maintenance fund will be depleted, and, unless my request is approved, all maintenance work on the city streets will stop."

Discuss Weed Cutting

Much discussion followed on weed cutting and other maintenance, and William K. Bodenweber (D) ninth ward, held that much of the weed cutting should be the responsibility of property owners. Frank Zakzeski (D) fourth ward, held however, weeds in streets of his ward should be cut as city projects.

Perry and others indicated that they were approving the $10,000 with the hope of getting holes patched and grass and weeds cut in their wards.

Perry, who indicated he was still in favor of doing street work by contract, said he was opposed to approving more money for street work "because the engineer was taken off the job" (apparently referring to a recent order by Schwenk as acting mayor). He had been told that there would be an engineer on such projects, he said, and he indicated dissatisfaction with the Hunter street project.

Cites Loss of 20 Days

William S. Keyser (R) second ward, made a point of the fact that these would be a 20-day waiting period involved in the event of approval of a bond issue for street work next month, and coming early in August it could mean a serious loss of time in continuance of street work.

McArdle thanked the aldermen for their reconsideration of the $10,000 item for street maintenance.

It was noted in a report favorable to renewal of the franchise of the Kingston City Transportation Corp. for 15 years, that the corporation plans to spend $80,000 for new buses.

The franchise was approved and the corporation was also given approval of route changes in the uptown area in conjunction with the use of the one-way street system.

A claim for $25,000 filed by Dorothy Sonner, of Port Ewen for injuries suffered in a staircase mishap at Cornell fire station May 17, was referred to the corporation counsel, Thomas F. Saccoman is the attorney.

Also referred was a claim by Clarence Stoutenberg, of 79 Gage street, for $1,000 for car damages resulting through contact with a Greenkill avenue excavation May 5. R. L. Featherstone, of Milton, is the attorney.

Vote Land Purchase

On recommendation of the corporation counsel, the aldermen voted for an agreement at $1,200 between the city and Clyde DuBois, for purchase of land used for extension of Westbrook Place from Sharon Lane to Johnston avenue. The aldermen also voted, on his recommendation, to approve settlement of a claim filed by Mary Doherty, of $300. The original claim for $6,000 was for injuries suffered in a fall of a protruding piece of pipe on Clinton avenue on Sept. 26, 1955.

A letter from Elmer Carney, noting that he was contesting a special assessment for work on "so-called Florence street," was referred to the city assessor. He contended that all were not taxed equally, and he claims no compensation for the land.

A bid for rezoning of a property at 122 Wurts street, filed through Cook & Cook, attorneys, and forwarded by Eighth Ward Alderman Arthur Smith, was referred to the laws and rules committee. In a residential zone, it is owned by Mrs. Babette Doherty, who seeks a business zone designation. A property to the west, it was noted, has long been a non-conforming property (service station). A public hearing was requested.

The aldermen authorized the city to enter into an agreement with Joseph T. and Louise Bonavita, for use of land needed to widen the street at the corner of Delaware avenue and Crane street.

A zoning change as requested by Mary Guido for a property at 250 Hurley avenue was approved. It is to be used for an antique business.

Assessments Approved

Special assessments were approved for sewer work in Jarvis avenue, and the paving of Florence street, Dietz court and Melvin drive.

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren was granted permission to attend the convention of the New York State Chiefs of Police Association in Schenectady July 22 through 25.

City Clerk Bernhardt S. Kramer read a report on his recent attendance at the State Conference of Mayors in Syracuse.

Resolutions by Aldermen Bodenweber asked for a two-hour parking limit on both sides of Andrew street from Broadway to Trenton street, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., Monday through Friday, and that parking be allowed near the entrance to the M.J.M. School, West O'Reilly street, because school buses no longer use the space.

George P. Norton Jr., sixth ward, asked for "no-parking" signs on a section of Ann street near Mill street.

121 Residents of 4th Ward Oppose Refuse in Lake Area

A petition, signed by 121 residents of the fourth ward, opposing use of a section of the Devil's Lake area for city refuse disposal, was filed at last night's Common Council meeting and referred to the Board of Public Works.

It was presented by Alderman Frank Zakzeski (D) fourth ward, who said he would request the BPW to hold a public hearing.

Three Points Named

Plans are in progress for use of an area within the bounds of the lake at the city line within the next several days, and the petition noted a three-point objection to any use of the land or lake for refuse disposal.

1. First avenue, which will bear the traffic, is too narrow, is in bad shape, and is dangerous for the operation. Efforts for three and a half years for its repair brought nothing from the mayor or BPW, although residents of the area share the city's tax burden.

Fear Drainage Problem

2. All of the area between Ulster street, Fourth avenue, and Kingston street, and the north end of First avenue, has no sewer facilities, other than septic tanks, and the project would create a dam in drainage ditches that are already sluggish. Attention has been called to this condition for several years, and nothing was done. The petition compared the section to that at Kingston Point which "made news headlines recently."

3. Because of the layout of the land, it would be impossible to seal in the dumping area at the end of each shift, and it might be impossible to seal it at all, because the ravine is deep. An unsealed dump, the petition said, would bring conditions like those once experienced in the Wilbur sector: rats, bugs, other animals, fires and odors. It would be a fire hazard for the surrounding area, and blasts by the new cement plant, might lessen the water content in the lake, which would be a dangerous condition in the event of fire. It also held that the project could be one of heavy cost to the city.

Convenience, He Says

Noting that conditions in the area have been brought before the council for several years, Alderman Zakzeski said, "Now they put a dump out there to complete matters. After many requests I have made regarding the condition of the road, they finally got around to fixing it for their convenience."

The lake, he said, was above steep rocks, and it is conceivable that due to blasting, the water may drain off. He reminded the council "and this administration that any damage done, such as cracked walls in any property along First avenue, due to the steady pounding of trucks riding over holes, that this be sufficient notice that Local Law No. 1 of 1951 will be invoked." That law deals with claim notices. He favored incineration or the new proposed method for disposal.

Fourth Ward Supervisor Joseph J. Turck, indicated he had not completed a canvass of the ward, but he found that a heavy majority of those interviewed were opposed to dumping in the area. He said he realized that the mayor had a problem, but it could be solved by incineration.

Valley Chapter To Back Ulster Trailer People

Over 50 trailer park operators and mobile home dealers attended a meeting of the New York Mobile Homes Association, Hudson Valley Chapter, Tuesday evening at the Hotel Belvedere at Malboro.

John Coldburn, president of the Hudson Valley Chapter, has membership on both sides of the Hudson river from New York city of Hudson, presided.

The chapter went on record to lend its support and the support of the State Association membership to the action pending in the Town of Ulster where a trailer ordinance is now under fire.

Mrs. Raymond Sleight, state president of the New York Mobile Homes Association, attended the meeting.

Attorney Paul Samuels of Poughkeepsie was present and spoke on the problem of town ordinances affecting trailer camps. He said a great many towns had ordinances based on trailers first came into production. There have been many changes in trailers since that day and ordinances have not kept pace with those changes. It was stated that four million people live in trailers in the country, representing about three per cent of the population of the country.

No More Arrests

Appellate Division determines the matter.

Town Attorney Served

A copy of the order of Justice Bergan was served on the town attorney.

The Town of Ulster adopted an ordinance regulating trailer camps in the town. The constitutionality of the ordinance was attacked and that matter is now pending in the Supreme court. Before that question was decided several arrests of trailer camp operators was made.

There is now pending before County Judge Louis G. Bruhn a motion to dismiss these informations and discharge the defendants from custody. That matter came on before Judge Bruhn on habeas corpus proceedings. Decision on the sufficiency of the informations on which the arrests were made was reserved by Judge Bruhn.

There has also been raised the question of jurisdiction of Justice of the Peace Harold Macholdt who issued the warrants and who presided at the arraignments. It is charged he should be disqualified in the matter since he is a member of the town board sat at the time the ordinance was adopted and that the question of the constitutionality of the ordinance, which he apparently approved, is now being attacked.

The matter before Judge Bruhn has been adjourned until July 9 at 10 a. m.

Investor Seeking Income
Rather Than Growth
Has Many Sound Choices

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am a retired store manager, 69 years old, with a moderate pension and no dependents. I have recently received $20,000 from my brother's estate. Growth stocks have little attraction for one in my position. Can I invest in stocks yielding 6 per cent with reasonable safety and have you any suggestions along these lines?

A. Yes. The present period of tight money has brought a leveling off in quite a few sound issues which are labeled as income producers rather than growth issues. Among these we would include a good tobacco, such as American, selling to yield 6.8 per cent on a $5 current dividend rate. Stock has been depressed by unfavorable medical reports on cigarette smoking, which seem to have little effect on earnings. I like Cream of Wheat, an important cereal producer, which currently yields 6.4 per cent with an uninterrupted dividend record since 1929.

You can get a 5.9 per cent return on Woolworth, our biggest variety chain, which has paid dividends regularly for 45 years.

American Brake Shoe's record of payment goes back to 1902. This firm was one of very few in the railroad-equipment field to operate profitably through the 1929-32 depression. Present yield on $2.90 dividend comes to 6 per cent. Chesapeake and Ohio is a coal carrier showing virtually no effects from the current setback in earnings for most rails. Dividends have been paid each year since 1922. Present well-protected yield is 6.4 per cent. The average return on all five stocks I have mentioned is 6.3 per cent, and some, like C. & O. and American Brake Shoe, have well-defined appreciation prospects as well.

Corning Glass—An Ideal Growth Holding

Q. I hold 50 shares of Corning bought a year ago at 80. My portfolio is aimed at creating a retirement fund 25 years hence. Would you advise me to hold Corning after its recent rise into the 90s?

A. On the basis you have outlined, I would definitely advise holding Corning even at present advanced levels. This is true growth issue. During the past 20 years sales have increased at a rate double that of the economy as a whole. In May, Corning announced that it had developed a revolutionary new basic material called Pyroceram. This product, characterized as the most important breakthrough ever made in glass research, is described as being harder than steel and lighter than aluminum.

Pyroceram is expected to have amazing usefulness in industry and in national defense. The new material can not be considered as just a lucky development for Corning. It is simply another payoff in the firm's long history of research. On current earnings and yield alone, Corning must be considered fully priced, but for your purpose the stock constitutes an almost ideal long-pull growth holding.

Leisure-Time Stocks Suggested
Q. Like many other young executives, I have had considerably more leisure time during the past few years. It has occurred to me that some companies must benefit materially from money spent as a result of shorter work hours and longer vacations. Can you suggest any stocks that benefit directly from leisure-time spending?

A. There are many issues that have been helped materially by what you very aptly call leisure-time spending. Among these I would certainly include Eastman Kodak which derives about half of its business from photographic supplies and equipment. On many other counts Eastman is a good holding, including the likelihood of a stock split this year. I like Black & Decker which makes portable electric tools and is likely to reap continued benefits from the "do-it-yourself" trend although by no means dependent upon it. One of the major beneficiaries of increased leisure time is Outdoor Marine, sometimes called the General Motors of the outboard industry. Sales have increased 600 per cent since World War 2, and profits have risen 1100 per cent. Stock was split 3-for-1 this month following a sustained rise in 1956-57. The outlook for future growth is very favorable and I believe shares are well worth holding and buying.

Union Says . . .

a quick settlement of the cement industry strike was dashed last night when negotiations in York, Pa., between the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers and the Medusa Portland Cement Co. broke down.

It had been viewed as a possible key settlement. H. J. Krebs, York plant superintendent, said negotiations bogged down on a "contract clause"—a union demand that work normally done by plant workers not be sublet. He said agreement was reached on other issues, including wages.

The issue of retroactivity deadlocked talks at Thomaston, Maine, where 230 Dragon Cement Co. employees went on strike.

The union, which claims to represent about 20,000 of the industry's 25,000 employees, publicly has been asking 20 cents in the scattered negotiations, in-

New Paltz Junior Chamber to Hold Meeting Monday

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rosenfield of New Paltz were guests at the June meeting of the New Paltz Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Rosenfield, whose hobby is photography, showed the members some very interesting and beautiful stereo color slides. In an open discussion which followed, he presented some very valuable bits of information on cameras, black and white and color films, and flash photography.

During the meeting which preceded the lecture, the following committees were appointed: Don Otis, chairman and John Motzler to organize, if possible, a Junior Chamber bowling league for the coming season; Jim Ashton, chairman, to make contact with and determine the services, if any, that the Junior Chamber can perform for the New Paltz public library.

It is expected that there will be guest speakers at many of our future meetings and entertainment will include a demonstration of stereophonic sound. The next meeting of the New Paltz Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday, July 8.

cluding 10 cents in direct wages, which now average between $1.74 and $2.44 hourly.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 3 (AP)—The stock market continued its rise in fairly active early trading today.

Key stocks were ahead from fractions to a point or more.

Aircraft bounced back from their retreat yesterday on reports of a defense spending bill which restores $971,500,000 of $1,200,000,000 in House cuts.

Coppers advanced, spurred by reports that Chile may cut copper production by 10 per cent. Brokers said the new high for construction expenditures in June was stimulating to the market.

Northrop rose around 2 points and United Aircraft about a point. Boeing and Douglas aircraft made smaller gains. Kennecott and American Smelting were about a point ahead. Anaconda and International Nickel rose by major fractions.

5 Die in Crashes

Rhinecliff bridge, town of Ulster.

Troopers William Shurter and Roger Lesnewski of the Kingston state police reported that Mr. Small, operating a 1952 suburban, was in collision with a 1953 dump truck owned by the Hurley Sand and Gravel Co. of Hurley, operated by Robert Thomas Metzger, 23, of 260 Clinton avenue.

Claims Small Didn't Stop

The suburban was proceeding east on Route 199 from the bridge and making a left turn into Route 32. The truck was proceeding north on Route 32 with a load of dirt fill.

The driver of the truck told troopers he saw the Small vehicle approaching the intersection, that the suburban slowed down but failed to stop for the stop sign, continuing across Route 32 into the path of the truck.

Mr. Metzger said he applied his brakes and swerved to avoid the collision. The front of the truck smashed into the left side of the Small vehicle, the impact overturning the truck on its right side and pushing the car up an embankment on the west shoulder.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Small were taken to the hospital by Schultz Ambulance where Mr. Small was pronounced dead on arrival. The operator of the truck was reportedly unhurt.

Verdict Withheld

Coroner Michael Galletta was withholding a verdict this morning pending an autopsy.

Troopers Shurter and Lesnewski reported that they were assisted at the scene by two off-duty toll collectors on the bridge. Joseph McInerney and Walter Plonski of Kingston, who had just left the bridge, assisted for an hour and a half with traffic.

Troopers said dirt was all over the road and only one lane open to heavy afternoon traffic. It was described as "quite a jam."

Cpl. Edward Shannon and Trooper Charles Teelon, BCI, are investigating the accident.

Thruway Trooper Tom Hayes told The Freeman today that the five persons taken to Kingston Hospital early this morning were injured when a tractor-trailer smashed into a 1952 sedan and a 1955 station wagon which had stopped in the south-bound driving lane of the Thruway midway between Kingston and Saugerties.

The station wagon, owned by Mr. Cruz, was reportedly disabled. The Kirchmer car had stopped just back of the Cruz vehicle to lend assistance.

Report Sideswipe

According to Troopers Hayes and James Gorman, the tractor-trailer, operated by Vito Siragusa, 38, of Buffalo, traveling south, sideswiped the Kirchmer car, shearing off the left side of the vehicle and knocking it off the highway.

The tractor-trailer then plowed into the rear of the station wagon, carrying it for a "considerable distance" down the highway.

Mr. Siragusa was reportedly uninjured. Michael Kirchmer, 4, riding in the Kirchmer car, and a four-month-old infant in the Cruz car were not hurt.

Was Retired Panama Pilot

Survived by a son, Neal E. Small of Claryville and Brooklyn, Mr. Small is survived by two brothers, Hervey L. Small of Bass River, Mass., and Edward S. Small of North Yarmouth, Me., and a sister, Mrs. Lucy Crowley of North Truro, Mass.

Sailed Ketch to City

He was a retired Panama Canal pilot and served from 1925 to 1950 and then he sailed a 38-foot auxiliary ketch from Panama to Kingston by way of the West Indies.

He was a ship captain and master mariner and in World War 1 was a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Navy. Mrs. Victoria Small was a retired school teacher. She had taught in Liberty, Parkville and also in New York city. She was an amateur oil color landscapist.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at Claryville Dutch Reformed Church. Mrs. Small will be buried in Claryville Dutch Reformed Church Cemetery while the remains of Mr. Small will be cremated.

Onteora Budget, said "it was felt a budget should be presented to operate the enlarged central district at the annual meeting in spite of the fact appeals are pending before the commissioner of education in regard to the West Hurley and Woodstock referendums.

It also was pointed out that additional levies will be made on the West Hurley and Woodstock school districts to pay for the existing bonded indebtedness previous to the annexation. These additional levies will amount to an increase in the rates of $10 per $1,000 assessed valuation in Woodstock and $8.40 per $1,000 assessed valuation for West Hurley. The overall tax on true value for the new enlarged district will approximately $8.69 per thousand.

Only one contest is expected to confront voters at the July 9 election.

Fred D. Cure, Pine Hill, who has served on the board of education since 1948, has filed a petition to succeed himself for a term of five years. He is opposed by Herbert J. Epstein of Mt. Tremper.

No Politics Are

resigned March 30 at Reuter's insistence.

"In justice to Mr. Stone," Reuter continued, the investigation "disclosed no evidence of venality or corruption on his part" although, Reuter said, Stone employed "eccentric and indefensible standards of judgment" in his handling of the case.

In testimony before a legislative committee Stone defended his action and said it was a case of bad judgment at worst.

Declines Comment

Arnold Bauman, counsel for the legislative committee, declined comment on Reuter's report. The committee is probing reports of a political fix in the Lanza case.

Lanza was restored to parole by Stone in February but was later jailed when his release raised a political storm. He presently is confined at Clinton Prison while the parole board decides how much more time he must serve.

Lanza drew a sentence of 7 1/2 to 15 years in 1943 for his extortion rackets at Fulton Fish Market. He was paroled in 1950.

Evasion, Says Carlino

In Albany today, Assembly Majority Leader Joseph F. Carlino said the Reuter report was "a volume of evasion, part of the smokescreen with which the Harriman administration has tried to envelop the Lanza scandal."

"The Long Beach Republican said the report was 'shot through with the same kind of political sharpshooting that Mr. Reuter used during his investigation in order to impart a 'bipartisan' flavor to the mess created by Mr. Harriman's parole commissioner who freed Lanza.'"

Carlino said the report failed to give any identification of two shadowy figures mentioned during the Lanza investigation—the "man with the glasses" and "the little man."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Some time ago Deweesse W. DeWitt of the Homeseekers' Loan Assn. gave me an old Rondout newspaper called "Morning Courier." It was dated, Feb. 1, 1883, Thursday's issue.

Now that they are moving up-town, perhaps some other such old items will turn up which they want to discard, I hope they think of me.

Some 75 years ago and before that, Rondout was a very busy place with the D and H Canal, the two ferries and all the buses which used to pick up and let off passengers on The Strand. The Mansion House was the leading hotel. Incidentally it is being repainted this summer and one can really admire the good workmanship, the material, the blue-stone and brick that was put into its construction.

In those days they believed in broad beams. I think it is around 100 years old or so and the painter is really bringing out all its good points. He is carefully going over the half round balconies and cornices. Those who know construction and its exorbitant costs today know just about what each item would cost to rebuild such a building. Many of the Rondout buildings were built just like that, solid and to stay put, come any kind of weather.

They even had sales of property at the Mansion House Hotel in 1880's according to an advertisement in the above paper: "For sale, a valuable farm will go up at public auction at the Mansion House, at Rondout, in the City of Kingston, on the 13th day of February, 1883. At 12 o'clock noon, a farm of land containing about 80 acres, and a frontage on the Hudson river of about 600 feet and upon which are a good two-story farm house, a good barn, a good wagon house, and a good granary, and also a good fruit orchard. Said farm, is situated in the Town of Ulster, Ulster County, N. Y., upon the Hudson river, nearly opposite Barrytown, Dutchess County, N. Y. Further information may be had at the office of Turk and Burhans, lumber dealers, at their office in Rondout, N. Y. Executors. (William J. Turk and Nelson H. Burhans.)"

I wonder where that farm is and what is there today with its large Hudson river frontage. Anything with Hudson river or creek frontage or view seems to become more valuable as folks go outdoors to live with their picture windows and outdoor pools and, cooking. No doubt in 20 years there will have to be parking meters along the water front for the water crafts. Did you notice the increase in number in the last couple of years. Everyone wants to get off the highway away from the Diesel engine smells of big buses and trucks and exhaust and go where the air is sweet and clean. What better place than on the water. I predict that the waterways will also be congested in a very few years.

In my time for two cents you could ride over the creek on the Skillyput with a licensed pilot. Shoe shine boys rode back and forth all day. What fun. The big ferry took us over the Hudson. The Eddyville yacht also gave us a good sail for very little. If we really wanted to go a good ways up or down the river there was always the Mary Powell or the Daylines. We could be big shots with small change in those days and be in the safe hands of experienced crewmen and licensed pilots.

Announce Totals Of County Salk Vaccine Clinics

The breakdown of figures showing the number of children inoculated at the six Ulster County Salk Vaccine Clinics, June 22 indicated that 580 received their shots at Kingston Hospital. The county total was 1,680.

Other clinics reported were: Benedictine Hospital 386; Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville 246; Saugerties Health Center 278; Village Office, New Paltz 140 and Town of Shandaken Building, Allaben 50.

Need Second Shots

The date for the second shots, in about six or eight weeks will be announced as soon as sufficient supplies of Salk are available.

The free clinics are made possible through funds allocated by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisor Peter M. Williams, Public Health chairman of the Board of Supervisors said the clinics were conducted smoothly and no reports reached him that undue hardships were caused by long waiting lines. He said he would like to express the appreciation of the Board of Supervisors to the Department of Health nurses, the doctors and all those who donated clinic sites, services and equipment for the clinics.

Beauty in motion—Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. There are reasons for this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution that takes excessive loads off the front wheels, the wide stance of outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Try it, this week!

Ives Gets Treatment

Washington, July 3 (AP)—Sen. Irving M. Ives of Norwich, N. Y., is in George Washington Hospital for treatment of a mild stomach upset. An aide to the New York Republican said yesterday the senator had entered the hospital as a precautionary measure. "He wanted to make very certain," the aide said, that the upset was in no way related to an abdominal difficulty he suffered a year ago." He said an examination had proved there was "absolutely no relation." The 61-year-old New Yorker, who entered the hospital last weekend, is expected to be back in his office before the end of the week.

If You're in Doubt, Don't Keep It Secret From Child

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. W. is working to help her husband pay for their home.

Recently she asked her 10-year-old son to turn down the volume on the TV. He said, "Make me." She said, "Don't talk to me so fresh." He retorted, "Why shouldn't I? You're nothing but a cashier in a restaurant."

She writes, "I gave him a good licking. But it hasn't changed anything. He's still as fresh as he can be to me..."

He disapproves of you, Mrs. W.

Why does this trouble you? Why, when he gave you his low opinion of your job, did you shove it away so violently by spanking him? Do you yourself doubt its value? Do you have a sneaky feeling that you're cheating your children by working in this restaurant instead of at home?

I think so.

If we feel strong approval of a decision to work outside our home, we don't need children's approval. Attacked as you've been, we'd simply say, "When you want to tell me why you hate my job so much, let me know—and we'll try to straighten it out. In the meantime, please switch off the TV or turn down that volume."

But if we're struggling with secret doubt of our job's value, a child's disparagement of it is more than we can stand. We'll shove it away with blows or furious words.

We want the doubt left secret. We've made the hard decision to work as a restaurant cashier—and don't want to reconsider our own gnawing doubts of its wisdom.

It's terribly relieving to confess them to ourselves.

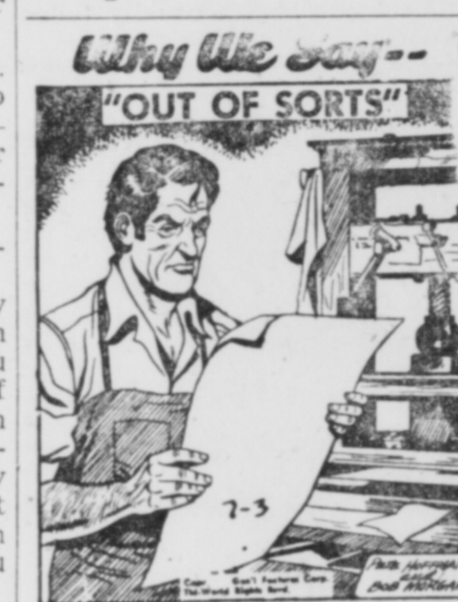

In your case, Mrs. W., it may be relieving to also confess them to your son. For example, you might say, "I've been thinking of how you despise my work. I'm not certain it's important myself. I want to help Daddy pay for this house—but staying at home with you may be much more important. Why do you think it is?"

It's silly to pose as a perfectly certain person to a child when we aren't. The pose gives us a don't-touch-me, unnatural stiffness that seals our real doubtful self away from him. It's this that makes him "fresh" and impatient. It's his demand for honesty between us.

Licenses Any Time

San Diego, Calif., July 3 (AP)—Round-the-clock marriage license service was resumed today at the San Diego county clerk's oceanside office, mainly to accommodate marines who have been landed and are well in hand. County supervisors voted last night to restore $2,644 to the office budget for maintaining 24-hour service after Clerk Bud James told them the office collected $8,000 annually from Camp Pendleton marines in license fees. Closing the office at night would be poor economy, he argued.

IMPATIENT: This expression means that we are not feeling right. It started with early print shops where type was set by hand. When a typesetter would run short of a certain style of type, he would have to wait until the used type from other jobs was resorted. The period of waiting naturally caused loss of patience.

Fugitive Caught

Plattsburg, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Two young citizens stepped on a fugitive hiding in tall grass, clubbed him over the head with a two-by-four in the ensuing struggle, then captured him as he was trying to climb a fence yesterday. The fugitive, Aaron M. Harrelson, 28, of Wilmington, N. C., had fled from the Clinton county courthouse, setting off a two-hour manhunt. Loyal LeCuyer Jr., 24, and Clayton Rushford, 19, both of Plattsburg, found the ex-convict in an empty lot three blocks from the courthouse. They had volunteered to help state police, sheriff's deputies and city police after Harrelson fled from the courthouse just after appearing for a hearing on a move by North Carolina authorities to extradite him. He is wanted to face charges of armed robbery and grand larceny.

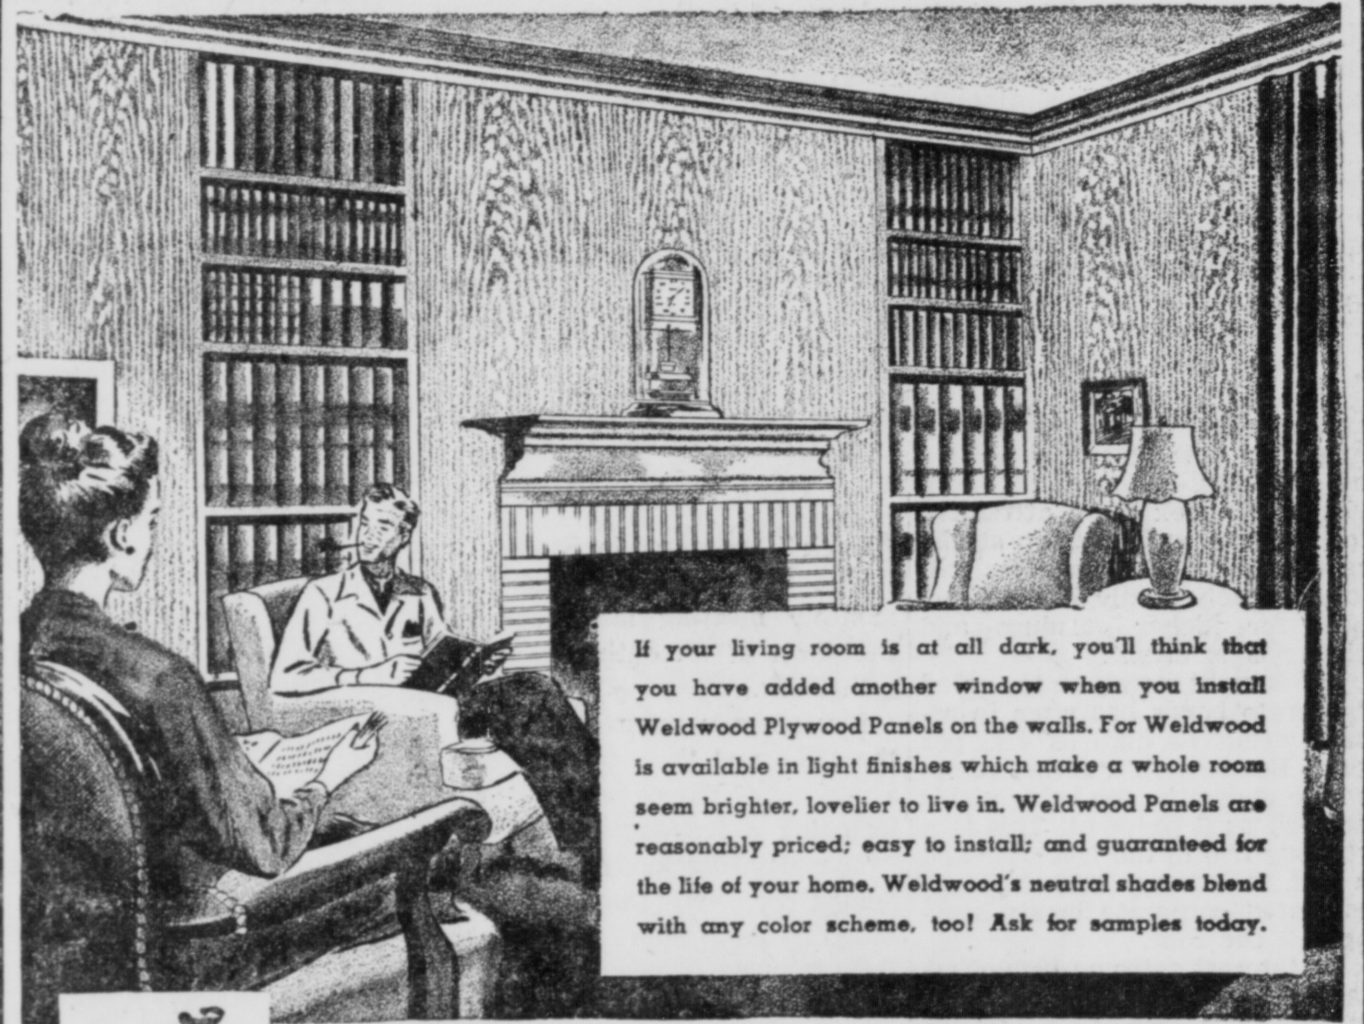

Check Bomb Scare

Houston, Tex., July 3 (AP)—A Trans-Texas Airways plane with 16 passengers and a crew of three aboard was called back last night and searched after an anonymous phone call warned of a bomb. Another plane was searched before passengers were allowed to board. No bomb was found. A TTA spokesman said the call came to the TTA switchboard here at about 5 p. m. (CST). It said only that a bomb had been placed aboard a Trans-Texas flight.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, July 3 (AP)—Those conspicuous victims of tight money and fear of more inflation—federal, corporate and municipal bonds—seem today to be digging in for at least a holding action.

The prices of the older ones have taken quite a shellacking this year. The interest rates that must be offered to sell new ones have risen steadily.

See Peak Reached

Sometimes underwriters have had a sorry time moving them into investor's hands. And sometimes communities and corporations find the rates too stiff to pay, and have to forego the improvements or expansion they'd like to make. Even the U. S. Treasury finds the high interest it would have to pay on a long term bond unacceptable and sticks to the short and medium term market.

But this week and last bond dealers have seen some sign of a halt to the downward trend in prices and signs that the peak of interest charges may have been reached—at least for the moment.

One reason could be that yields on bonds have soared so high that now they top those on many blue chip stocks, thus attracting investors to the bond market. Another is that fear of a big new surge of inflation which swept stock prices higher a few weeks back has abated a bit for the moment. Inflation fears make investors sell fixed-income bonds and buy speculative bonds.

Investment Return Up

If runaway inflation is to be avoided—and Washington money managers vow that they are set on stopping it—bonds at high yields will look more attractive to investors, and common stocks as a hedge against inflation will look attractive only if the prospect for higher earnings and dividends is bright.

Investment return on top rated corporate bonds has risen in recent weeks as high as 4.85 per cent. Bonds with a rating somewhere under the top bring yields as high as 6 per cent. This is a striking rise in the last year and a half. In January 1956 the highest rated corporate bonds averaged 3 per cent.

As interest rates on new offerings rise in response to tight money, the prices of older bonds drop to bring their yields into line.

Yield May Differ

Interest rates on bonds are fixed. They pay the same year after year. Yield, on the other hand, is the return you get on the amount of money the bond costs you when you buy it in the market place.

Thus, the U. S. Treasury bond that cost $1,000 when new and bears a 2½ per cent interest rate, will go right on paying $25 a year in interest no matter what you paid for it then or now.

But the price of some of these older treasury issues have fallen as low as $860 in recent weeks. That is, you can get a $25 return on $860, rather than on $1,000.

Banks Hesitate

If you hold the bond to maturity, no matter when it was bought, it will bring $1,000, just as it says it will.

Most commercial banks have U. S. Treasury issues in their portfolios. Many sold large chunks of these holdings some time back, wanting the money to lend at much higher rates than the bonds were paying. Now banks hesitate to sell these bonds because of the loss to them the sale would involve.

Bond prices will have to recover or commercial interest rates rise still higher before these bank holdings reach the market again in volume.

Bond dealers and underwriters hope that all these factors will combine to make bonds more attractive to investors and perhaps spell the end of climbing interest charges for communities and businessmen alike.

Pack 7 Meeting

Pack 7, sponsored by St. John's Episcopal Church, held its monthly meeting last week in the form of an outing at Forsyth Park.

Box suppers were enjoyed by the Cubs and their families and a variety of games were played, including a scavenger hunt.

The flag ceremony was conducted by Neil Dousharm assisted by Dean Short and George Dall Jr.

Cubmaster Ernest Dousharm and Assistant Cubmaster George Dall presented the following awards:

Den 1—Tony Welheer, gold arrow; Robert Schaffner, gold and silver arrow; Conrad Borst, gold arrow; Bryant Beersouth, gold arrow and two silver arrows; George Dall Jr., silver arrow.

Den 2—Robert Elliott, wolf badge; Jack Bisgick, wolf badge; James Henion, wolf badge and gold arrow; Joe Miller, gold arrow.

Den 3—Scott Sharot, gold arrow; Stuart Sharot, gold arrow; Robert Dugan, two silver arrows; Joseph Valle, silver arrow.

Den 4—George Brocco, service star.

Michael Dall and Arthur Anderson were inducted. Andrew Tucker, a transfer, was received and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tucker, introduced.

Robert Ohlsen, chairman of the executive committee, presented the Pack with its charter for the ensuing year.

Bard Elects 4 New Trustees

The election of four members of the Board of Trustees of Bard College, Annandale-on-the-Hudson, was announced today by Harry J. Carman, chairman of the board.

Among the newly-named trustees is Mrs. Eva Thal Belefant of New York city, the first alumna to join the Bard board. Others are: Fred M. Hechinger, associate publisher of the Bridgeport Herald; Samuel S. Goldberg, New York lawyer and Bernard J. Axelrod, lawyer and real estate investor.

Mr. Hechinger, former education editor for the New York Herald-Tribune and the Bridgeport Herald, served as a foreign correspondent for the Overseas News Agency and wrote an education column for The Washington Post. He was special consultant to the Director of Education and Cultural Relations of the United States Military Government in Germany in 1948, and is the author of several prize-winning articles. An alumnus of City College, Mr. Hechinger also attended New York University and the University of London.

Mr. Goldberg, a partner in the law firm of Goldberg & Hatterer, is a graduate of the Brooklyn Law School and St. Lawrence University. A member of the New York County Lawyers' Association and the Brooklyn Museum, Mr. Goldberg is a noted art collector and bibliophile.

Five-Year Terms

A graduate of Columbia College and Columbia Law School, Mr. Axelrod has practiced law and is engaged in the real estate investment business. He is a resident of New York city.

Mrs. Belefant, who graduated from Bard College in 1949 and was named a Bard scholar in her junior year, is a substitute teacher in the New York elementary school system. She has served as an economist-researcher with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and in the Economics Department of the California Texas Oil Company.

The new trustees, who took office this month, will serve five-year terms.

In Guard at 109

Crestview, Fla., July 3 (P)—William A. Lundy, 109-year-old Confederate war veteran, is a Home Guardsman once again. Lundy, who served with the Home Guard at Elba, Ala., during the War Between the States, has been made an honorary member of today's equivalent—the Ground Observer Corps. Though Lundy boasts he can still spot a squirrel in a pine tree from a considerable distance, he won't really be called on to watch for airplanes. He's very pleased, however, to have his Ground Observer wings, honorary though they be. The old veteran's co-survivors, both rebels, are Walter W. William, 114, of Franklin, Tex., and John Salling, 110, of Slant, Va.

SHOOTING HIGH—Solving the problem of getting the right photographs at crowded events, photographer Mark Duffy goes up in the world at Kansas City, Mo. Marilyn Late Again

New York, July 3 (P)—Curvy Marilyn Monroe, late as usual, supplied the hoopla yesterday in dedicating a plush sidewalk superintendents' clubhouse. In typical MM style, the glamorous blonde actress arrived in a fetching pink and white cotton dress—2 1/2 hours late. If the oglers minded the delay, they didn't show it. "Oh, was I sick," gushed Marilyn in explaining her delay. It turned out that Miss Monroe and her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, had been celebrating their first wedding anniversary the night before.

Waiter Gets $25,000

New York, July 3 (P)—Angel Estevez, a hotel waiter who was legally eliminated as principal beneficiary of an elderly widow's $750,000 estate, received a $25,000 settlement yesterday. Surrogate Joseph A. Cox signed the settlement order. It grew out of an agreement made last April 5 when a Surrogate's Court jury invalidated the will of 81-year-old Mrs. Margaret Currie Nahn. The jury ruled the widow lacked adequate mental capacity when she signed the will Feb. 13, 1952.

Smith Welding Is Sending Employee To Point Course

Harry E. Post, employee of Walter Smith Battery & Welding Service, 18 Downs street, will attend a sales training course sponsored by Linde Company, Division of Union Carbide Corporation, next week at West Point. The course starts Monday and ends Friday. Walter Smith Battery and Welding Service is a local distributor of Linde industrial gases, Purox oxy-acetylene welding and cutting apparatus, and electric welding equipment and supplies.

Oxygen, best known of these industrial gases, is used by local doctors and hospitals in treatment of patients suffering from pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, heart disease, and shock. This same gas when combined with acetylene produces a 6,000-deg. (F.) oxy-acetylene flame, the hottest gas flame known to mankind, which is widely used industrially for welding and cutting metals.

Study Latest Methods

While at West Point Mr. Post will study the latest methods of gas distribution developed by Linde Company. One of the topics will be a new type of cylinder used to transport oxygen in liquid form. At the "use point" this cylinder converts the liquid to gaseous oxygen for immediate use. In the past, 12 heavy, high-pressure cylinders were required to hold the same amount of oxygen as one of the new liquid containers. In addition, the new cylinder when full, weighs only about one-quarter as much as the other twelve.

The increased knowledge gained by Walter Smith Battery & Welding Service employee at West Point will enable him to better serve the industrial and medical needs of the community and its citizens.

Industry takes about 10 per cent of the U. S. potato crop for making potato chips.

Scott Trial Sept. 16

Los Angeles, July 3 (P)—L. Ewing Scott will go on trial on a charge of murdering his wife on Sept. 16. The date was set yesterday when Scott appeared in court and pleaded innocent to all charges against him in connection with his long-missing wife, Evelyn. The 61-year-old former stock broker is also accused of grand theft and forgery in his handling of her estate. Mrs. Scott has not been seen since she disappeared in May 1955.

World News in Brief

Predicts Report Bid
Washington, July 3 (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) predicted

today the Senate Foreign Relations Committee will seek a "confidential report" from the State Department on its efforts to seek a solution to the Algerian problem.

Mansfield said the committee will do so on the basis of a resolution proposed by Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) calling on the administration to press for a solution based on "political independence for Algeria." Kennedy told the Senate yesterday the Algerian crisis "is no longer a problem for the French alone."

Reds Warn Members

Moscow, July 3 (AP)—The Soviet Communist party warned its seven million members today it will not permit discussion of diverse opinion on Red doctrine. An article and a front page editorial in Pravda said there is no place in the Soviet Communist party for support or even discussion of any question in opposition to Marxism-Leninism. "The Communist party is not a discussion club," Pravda said. "It is a militant organization of working people."

Record Blast Set

Atomic Test Site, Nev., July 3 (AP)—The biggest Fourth of July fireworks display in the nation's history is on tap tomorrow, but it will be a grimly serious instead of festive occasion. The United States is scheduled to explode what could be the most powerful atomic weapon ever detonated on this continent. If the device reaches the peak of its field of power it would exceed the giant which was set off in 1955 at the Nevada test site.

Would Seal Leaks

Washington, July 3 (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) has introduced legislation aimed at sealing leaks on actions by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) and other regulatory agencies. A second bill introduced yesterday by Jackson would make it a crime to attempt to exert "undue influence" on members of the CAB and five other regulatory bodies. They are the Federal Trade Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Power Commission and the Federal Communications Commission.

National Speaker To Address Local Realtor Board

RICHARD H. EGGER

Richard H. Eggers, field executive of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will spend next Monday in this community consulting with local realtors and other business leaders. Eggers, president of the Ulster County Real Estate Board of Realtors, announced yesterday. Mr. Eggers travels from the headquarters office of the association in Chicago.

During his visit Mr. Eggers will meet with the officers of the Ulster County Real Estate Board of Realtors and address a luncheon of the board at 1 p. m. on Monday, July 8, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Prior to his services with the realtors' association, Mr. Eggers was a national field representative of a welfare organization. During World War 2 he was in the submarine service of the navy.

750 Die in Quake villages ringing the base of 18,600-foot Mt. Demavend, 35 miles east of Tehran, apparently felt the brunt of the shocks. Reports said a quake lasting more than two minutes flattened most of these centers.

The village of Navak, near Firuz Kuh, was reported destroyed. The fate of its 310 inhabitants was unknown.

Other dispatches said 40 persons perished in Polour Larijan, 12 in Firuz Kuh and 8 in Demavend.

The longest series of quakes was reported in Babul, where most of the buildings were evacuated. Hospital staffs treated patients in public squares.

Lasts 30 Seconds

The quake shook Tehran, slightly damaging the justice ministry and the central railway station. The longest shock lasted 30 seconds and no casualties were reported in the capital.

Rail communications north of Tehran were paralyzed most of yesterday until emergency crews repaired the Tehran-Caspian sea line. An investigating team also went to southwestern Iran to check reports from Shushtar, near the Kuzistan oil fields, that Shushtar mountain had been belching flames and lava since a quake Sunday night.

An oil company spokesman said there was no immediate danger to the oil installations, which lie some distance from the mountain.

Italy has very little mineral wealth.

Society Blamed More Than Broken Homes for Problems

Philadelphia, July 3 (AP)—A noted woman anthropologist said today that broken homes are no more likely to produce juvenile delinquents than happy ones.

Margaret Mead of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, told the National Education Assn. (NEA) convention in a prepared speech "the root of the trouble lies not in the family but in our present narrow and self-centered definition of 'the community.'"

"Our courts are filled," Miss Mead said, "with children from wartime conditions, from broken homes and depression conditions, children who come from depressed rural conditions into the cities, or from the slums."

Society Fails

"If we investigate the life histories of these children—whom we call 'delinquent,' children whom society has failed—in many cases there will be found a history of bad home conditions. But if one takes in a large sample of broken homes, one will not find more delinquent children among them than among a comparable sample of unbroken homes."

Miss Mead said "it is not the homes that produce the delinquents."

Poor homes, she acknowledged, do "make children vulnerable, liable to . . . influence of bad companions" and in bad neighborhoods "the most vulnerable children will be most influenced."

The plight of these children, she said, is heightened because of "the present tendency of a great proportion of our responsible men and women to move . . . into little protected islands where they can do good on a small scale."

Forget Big Problem

Here, she said, they "forget the pale destructive children on the city streets."

The problem, she said, "is harder to tackle, because this strange separation . . . has all been done for the best of reasons—to build good family life, healthy family life where children can have lots of outdoors, many companions and good schools."

But, she added, there is something wrong if "the people in each 'good community' have to say that if more people move in the school will be overtaxed, the things I came to get for my children will be lost."

Miss Mead recalled a proposal in Congress aimed at stopping youngsters from slipping across the Mexican border for what she called "illicit amusements."

"There is no way in which Congress can make a law to keep the children in the model, zoned, restricted communities from feeling the impact of the neglected stepchildren of our society," she said, in the neighborhoods of "the saloons and the hot joints."

"We have failed to realize," she said, "that we cannot live today in any community smaller than the world and that to plan for the children of any one family or any one town we must think in national and international terms."

Sunset Theatre

Operator Leaves $100,000 Estate

Harry W. Lamont, 53, of Elmsmere, operator of a chain of upstate movie theatres, left an estate of more than $100,000 according to a will filed in Albany county. Mr. Lamont operated the Kingston Sunset Drive-In on Ontario Trail.

Beside getting joint property valued at $25,000, the widow is given half of the stock in the Lamont Theatre Service, Inc., with the other half of his stock going to a brother, Robert Lamont of Troy. Robert Lamont also gets half the capital stock of the Kingston Sunset Drive-In, Inc. Bequests to other members of the family are made under the will and the residue is to go into a trust fund, the income of which will be given to the widow and upon her death divided into 10 equal parts. Five of these parts go to Robert Lamont and the other parts to other members of the family.

Lamont operated theatres in Kingston, Amsterdam, Schenectady, Greenville, Leeds and Poughkeepsie.

Denies Hoffa Mistrial

Washington, July 3 (AP)—U. S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews today denied a defense motion for a mistrial in the bribery-conspiracy trial of mid-west teamsters boss James R. Hoffa. The judge announced the denial without comment. The motion was based on a contention that John Cye Cheasty, key prosecution witness, had expressed racial views that might prejudice the jurors in his favor and against the defendants. There are eight Negroes on the jury.

Dental Health Clinic

A preschool dental health clinic will be held in Lake Katrine School Health room from July 11 to 15. The dental hy-gienist from the Ulster County Health Department will examine and clean the teeth of children, four and five years of age. Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Angelo Ciosi, Lake Katrine, Tel. 546-W-1 on July 9 and 10 from 1 to 4 p. m.

Tenor Going to Clubs

Denver, July 3 (AP)—Thomas Hayward of New York city, Metropolitan Opera tenor, said here today he will start a tour of the night club circuit July 15, opening in Cleveland, Ohio. Hayward, a Metropolitan singer since 1945, will be teamed with Hollywood comedian Jack Ladd. Hayward is here to participate in the annual Red Rocks Festival which opened last night.

4 Arabs Executed

Algiers, Algeria, July 3 (AP)—Four Arabs were executed in Constantine prison today for the slaying of three European boys last year. The boys, the eldest 15, disappeared May 3, 1956, while on a bicycle ride. Their mutilated bodies were found later in a mountain cave near Blida. The four Arabs were sentenced March 6 by a military court. Terrorist attacks continued to trouble Algeria, with a toll of five dead and nine wounded in the 24 hours up to noon today.

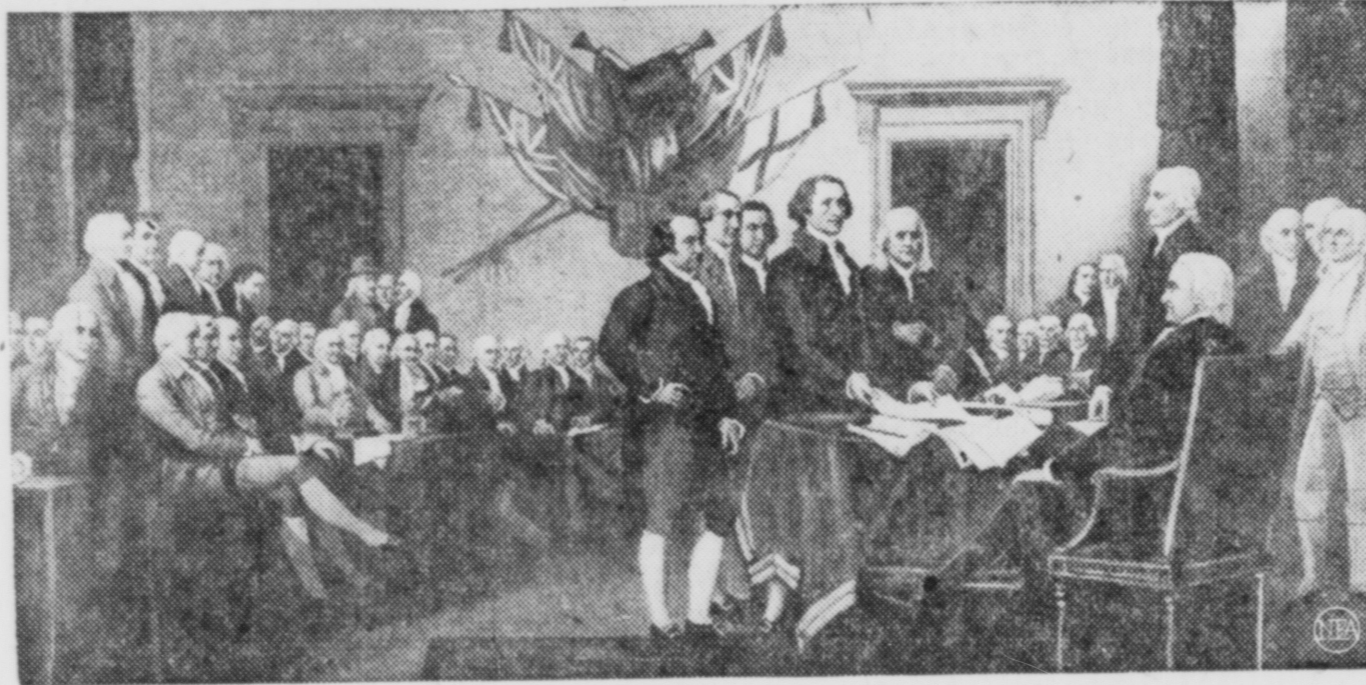

Heat Holds Germany

Frankfurt, Germany, July 3 (AP)—West Germany, suffering from its worst heat wave since 1905, had temperatures ranging from 95 to 100 Fahrenheit today. Many persons sought relief in swimming pools and rivers. Forty drowned.

A Subject for Meditation on the Fourth

All we have of Freedom—all we use or know—

This our fathers bought for us, long and long ago. (Kipling)

Church, Rectory Burn

Lititz, Pa., July 3 (AP)—The famed Moravian Church of this Pennsylvania Dutch stronghold of Lancaster county and the rectory next door burned down yesterday. The board of trustees said the loss, in money value, may run to a million dollars. In intangibles, the board added, the loss is incalculable. Flames whipped out of control because of an inadequate water supply, and fire-fighting crews were able to stop them just short of other buildings on the Linden Hall School for girls. Both church and rectory were on the campus. No one was hurt. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Frivolous Comedy Opens at Woodstock Playhouse Tuesday

"The Reluctant Debutante," a frivolous comedy about a scheming mother's campaign to make her daughter's "coming-out" a social success, will be the Woodstock Playhouse's second presentation opening July 9 through 14. Rosemary Murphy, Ed Preble and Phyllis Wynn are in the leading roles of the mother, father and their entrant in the matrimonial sweepstakes. The play enraptured London audiences for nearly two years after its first presentation there in the spring of 1955, and it won a warm critical welcome in New York in the fall of 1956. Anna Massey played the part of Jane in the New York production. With brisk and fluent wit, "The Reluctant Debutante" exhibits the travail of an upper-class British family during the feverish period of their daughter's "coming-out." The pretty young girl herself, finds the whole ritual silly and boring and would rather be home in the country with her horses and dogs. The play's plot follows the mother's determined strategies to snare for her daughter the most eligible young man around—a young fellow that the daughter considers "goofy"—and to fend off another young bachelor who has the reputation of being a rake.

Anthony Holland and Carlton Colyer will be seen as two hunted bachelors; Peggy Meredith and Betty Lou Robinson as another mother and daughter intent on tracking down presentable escorts.

Ed Preble, the father comes to us via the west coast where he has appeared in numerous plays in Ojai, California and Santa Barbara including "The Lady is not for Burning" and "Liliom." His professional experience has taken him to practically all of the forty-eight states. He has been a familiar face on television and the screen.

Phyllis Wynn the daughter, who is returning to Woodstock for the second time, has had six years of stock experience including the Grist Mill Playhouse, Famous Artists Country Playhouse, and others, etc. She had the unique experience of playing both Millie and Madge in "Picnic" (Millie at Woodstock). She toured in "The Moon is Blue," was understudy to Peggy Ann Garner in "Peg O' My Heart" and played with Eva Le Gallienne in "The Corn is Green." She has appeared on all major TV programs on ABC, NBC and CBS.

TEA AT ST. MARY'S—Among those at tea of St. Mary's Rosary and Altar Society Sunday in the parish school hall were (l-r) Mrs. Vincent Bradley, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Hastings, planning committee chairman; the Rev. Francis

X. Toner, moderator; Mrs. Walter Fallon, refreshment committee chairman; Mrs. Walter Phillips, president. The tea followed solemn enrollment of members in the society. (Freeman photo).

St. Mary's Rosary Society Enrolls 175 Members in Altar Confraternity Sunday

Sunday afternoon 175 members of St. Mary's Rosary Society were solemnly enrolled in its confraternity, the Altar Society. The Rev. Francis X. Toner, moderator of the organization, officiated at the ceremony and the sermon was delivered by the Rev. William V. Reynolds, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Church. His subject was "The Importance of the Rosary in Our Daily Lives."

The altar of St. Mary's Church was decorated with red roses and blue carnations. Individual short stemmed red roses were blessed and presented to each member enrolled. A Rosarian blessing was also placed on the Rosaries and candles of each member. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament closed the religious part of the program. A reception and tea followed in St. Mary's School Hall, which was decorated with white hydrangea. On the tables were pink gladioli and carnations.

Mrs. Walter Phillips, president of the organization, and Mrs. Vincent Bradley, treasurer, poured.

Members of the committee which planned the event were: Mmes. Samuel Avnet, Walter Fallon, William Gudy, John Hargrove, Donald Hastings, Vincent McDonough, Arthur Parks and Miss Elizabeth McDonough.

Engagement

CAMILLE MARIE CAMINO
(Sterling Studios)

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Camino of New Paltz announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Camille Marie Camino, to Robert C. Norman, son of Mrs. Edith C. Norman, of Olean, N. Y.

Miss Camino graduated from Walton High School for Girls, New York city and is presently employed as a secretary in the Public Relations Department at IBM in Kingston.

Mr. Norman, a graduate of St. Bonaventure University in Olean and Syracuse University, is employed as Program-Sports Director at radio station WKNY in Kingston.

The wedding will take place on August 24 at St. Joseph's R. C. Church in New Paltz.

Engagement Told Of Miss Elinor Howard

Mr. and Mrs. Roswell F. Kelder of 21 Brewster street have announced the engagement of Mrs. Kelder's daughter, Miss Elinor Gilbert Howard, to Robert Paul Illwitzer of Washington, D. C. He is the son of Mrs. Rose Illwitzer of Norwalk, Conn.

The couple plan a September wedding.

The bride-to-be, daughter also of John Howard of South Pasadena, Calif., is an alumna of Cornell University. She has been working with the Department of Defense and continuing her studies at Georgetown University, where she will teach this winter.

The prospective bridegroom graduated from Cornell University in 1952. He served in the army for three years and since then has been connected with the Department of Defense.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

WHEN YOU HAVE HEARD IT BEFORE

Dear Mrs. Post: When a friend starts to tell a story that you have heard, it is considered impolite to tell that person that you have heard the story, or must you sit and listen to it as if you had never heard it.

Answer: If your friend is telling the story to a group and the others apparently have not heard it, you say nothing, but if you are the only listener, you can, in fact you should, say something like "Oh, Jane told me all about that this morning."

Announcing Second Engagement

Dear Mrs. Post: Our daughter announced her engagement to a young man about a year ago. Several months later the engagement was broken by mutual consent. Now our daughter plans to become engaged again and I am wondering just how to announce this second engagement. We are having a small dinner party to celebrate the occasion. Shall we announce it in the newspaper? The first engagement was given prominent notice. What is best taste in a situation of this kind.

Answer: Avoid any mention of her previous engagement and merely announce it as though it were a first engagement—Mr. and Mrs. John Jones announce the engagement of their daughter Mary, to....., etc.

Man Without A Hat

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in good taste for a man to go without a hat? My husband does not like hats and never wears one. I have been trying to tell him that in order to be considered well dressed a man should wear a hat on the street. My husband dresses well and takes great pride in his appearance but I can't convince him that he should wear a hat. A word from you might help.

Answer: On a city street a hat is definitely a requirement of a gentleman. In the country he wears one or not as he chooses.

Where and how future-in-laws should meet after the engagement is explained by Mrs. Post in leaflet E-1, "Engagements." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Sheila A. Law, Formerly of This City,
Is Married in St. Patrick's, Newburgh

MRS. MYRON BAZARIAN

Miss Sheila A. Law, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Law of 26 Quassaick avenue, Newburgh, formerly of this city, was united in marriage to Myron Bazarian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Minnie Bazarian, of 136 Elliott avenue, Waterbury, Conn., Saturday, June 29, at noon at St. Patrick's Church, Newburgh. The Rev. Joseph De Santo performed the double ring ceremony.

The organist, Stephen Selvagio, played Panis Angelicus and Ave Maria.

The church decorations consisted of gladioli.

Mrs. Ralph DiMuccio, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor.

John Broderick of Naugatuck, Conn., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ralph DiMuccio of Mt. Marion and Raymond Koss of Waterbury, were the ushers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lace and silk taffeta gown fashioned with long sleeves and a pleated midriff drawn back in a bustle over a chapel length train. Her illusion veil was elbow length with a crown of seed pearls. She carried a prayer book with streamers of stephanotis. The matron of honor wore a waltz-length gown of French blue nylon chiffon styled with a shirred bodice outlined with lace and a bouffant skirt. She wore a matching stole and white picture hat. She carried a cascade of blue feathered carnations.

The bride's mother was dressed in grey lace with matching accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore dusty rose with matching accessories.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony at Pine Tree Inn. Music was furnished by the Lou Kelly trio.

Guests were present from Newburgh, Kingston, Philadelphia, Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and the State University Teachers College, Plattsburgh. She was employed as a school-nurse in Newburgh during the 1956-57 term.

The bridegroom, a graduate of the University of Connecticut, is now a candidate for a master's degree. He served four years in the Air Force.

After a wedding trip to Cape Cod, the couple will reside in Storrs, Conn.

Miss Judith Ann Misner Is Wed
To John E. Johnson at Ellenville

In the Dutch Reformed Church, Ellenville, at 4 p. m. on Saturday, June 29, Miss Judith Ann Misner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Milford Misner of Kerhonkson, became the bride of John E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Deyo W. Johnson of Ellenville. The Rev. George H. Winn officiated. A reception at the church parlors followed the ceremony.

Miss Valerie Misner was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Diane Misner, sister of the bride; Miss Florence Sue Misner of Woodbourne, cousin of the bride; Miss Beverly Brown of Albany; and Miss Joyce Van Curen of Middletown.

Miss Deborah Misner of Woodbourne, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Frank Hoornbeek of Chester was best man. Ushers were Richard McKillip of New Haven, Conn.; Robert Misner, brother of the bride; David Freer, and Richard Craft.

The bride's brother, Fred Mis-ner, was organist. David Freer was soloist, and sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte, and "Because" by D'Hardelot before the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white lace and nylon net, with a lace bodice and wing collar, and lace fingertip sleeves. Lace on the bodice extended in deep V's to a bouffant skirt. She carried a bouquet of white orchids surrounded by stephanotis, with a cascade of stephanotis on pale pink ribbons. She wore a fingertip net veil.

Her maid of honor, Miss Valerie Misner, wore a light blue waltz-length chiffon gown with boat neckline and full-length sash in back. Her headpiece was a crown of blue chiffon with a short veil. She carried a multi-color nosegay with pink ribbon trim.

Gowns and headpieces of the bridesmaids were identical with that of the maid of honor but were of light pink with matching pink shoes. They carried multicolor nosegays with blue ribbon trim.

The flower girl wore a blue chiffon dress with draped neckline and short puffed sleeves. She carried a miniature multicolor nosegay with pink ribbons.

The bridegroom and his attendants wore white jackets and dark trousers.

Mrs. M. Milford Misner, mother of the bride, wore a short sleeved gold print chiffon dress with cummerbund. She wore white accessories, with a corsage of white stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Deyo W. Johnson, wore a black and white Italian silk suit, with pink corsage and accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Kerhonkson High School and Fredonia State Teacher's College, class of 1956. She was on the teaching staff of the Monticello Central School for one year. The bridegroom graduated from Ellenville High School and Cornell University, class of 1954.

He served two years as a lieutenant in the Quartermaster Corps, stationed at Fort Lee, Va. He is now vice-president of William H. Deyo and Co., Ellenville.

Out-of-town guests were from Monticello, Middletown, Woodbourne, Sidney, Jamaica, New York city; Hohokus and Jersey City, N. J.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will be at home at 16 Circle avenue, Ellenville, after July 20.

MRS. WALTER JAMES BURR (Fautz photo)

Ann V. Sheehan, Walter Burr Are Wed;
To Make Future Residence in Yonkers

Miss Ann Valerie Sheehan, daughter of Mrs. Harold Sheehan of 12 Washington avenue and the late Harold Sheehan, became the bride of Walter James Burr, son of Mrs. Walter Burr and the late Walter Burr, 17 Washington avenue, at a nuptial Mass Saturday, June 29, at 11 a. m. at St. Joseph's Church.

The Rev. James V. Keating, assistant pastor, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Frank Rafferty was the organist and Miss Patricia Keefe, soloist, offered "One Hour With Thee," "Ave Maria," "Oh Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "Mother at Thy Feet We're Kneeling."

The church was decorated with vases of white gladioli, shasta daisies, carnations and larkspur. Pews were marked with white bows.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Marshall A. Everett, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace posed over bridal taffeta fashioned with a scoop neckline outlined with hand clipped lace medallions and long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. The princess line skirt fell from an Empire bodice bordered with a taffeta band and terminated in a circular chapel length train. The French illusion veil was shirred to a tiara of iridescent flowers and seed pearls. She carried a prayer book with a white orchid showered with lily of the valley.

Mrs. Raymond Pardee, 249 Clinton avenue, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of white chiffon with a violet floral print, styled with a shirred bodice, cowl neckline, abbreviated sleeves and a mezzanine length skirt. She wore a matching picture hat trimmed with a band of tiny flowers and a bow of violet tulle. She carried a basket of larkspur, roses, carnations and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Miss Joan Smith and Miss Elaine Eigo, both of Kingston, friends of the bride; Miss Judith Partlan, Bronx, cousin of the bride and Miss Grace McLaughlin, Chazy, a friend of the bride. Their gowns were identical in style and color to that of the matron of honor as well as their flowers.

William Burr of 112 West

Wappingers Falls Central School. Mr. Burr, also a graduate of Kingston High School, received a BS degree from New Paltz Teachers College and a MA degree from Albany. He was a me-ber of Delta Kappa fraternity and is now a member of the faculty at Hartsdale Public School. Mr. Burr served two years in the U. S. Air Force as a sergeant.

Speedy Justice
Oaklahoma City (AP)—Municipal Judge Mike Foster had to call a recess because his court was turned into a track meet. A defendant suddenly broke away and ran from the courtroom. Five officials gave chase and the man was caught several blocks away. "I had to order a recess," the judge explained, "because everybody was too pooped to testify."

Start Saugerties 4th Celebration, Parade at 10 A. M.

One of the largest Fourth of July celebrations in the history of Saugerties will start with the parade at 10 a. m. from Barclay Heights Thursday.
The seven divisions will feature 14 organization floats, seven musical marching units, eight fire trucks, 12 cars and 18 marching groups, according to the celebration committee of Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce.
Assemblies at 9:30
The parade will assemble at 9:30 a. m. However, all floats must be at the assembling point at 8:30 for judging.
First prize for the best float will be $75 and the organization trophy which must be won three successive years for permanent possession.
Second prize is $50; third $25. In addition each float entered in the parade will receive $10 for participation. The judges are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fite of High Woods; Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saxe of Kiskatom and Mr. and Mrs. Bart Jordano of Poughkeepsie.

Judging for the best marching units and best appearing junior marching units will be made from the balcony of the Exchange Hotel, Main street, Saugerties during the parade. The parade will disperse at Cantine Memorial Field.
Ball Games Slated
The afternoon's program will include a Little League baseball game at Little League field at 1 p. m. and a semi-pro game between the Saugerties Dutchmen and Poughkeepsie Elks at 2:30 at Cantine Field.
Prior to the fireworks display at 9:45 p. m. at the field Kay Moose, Miss Saugerties of 1957 will present the award of a $1,000 saving bond.
For those watching the parade, parking will be available in the lot opposite the field on Washington avenue.
There is no admission fee for the fireworks display.

Trucker Gets Three Years, Appeals Case

New York, July 3 (AP)—Sam Courtney, 52-year-old head of a trucking company in the garment district, was sentenced to three years imprisonment and fined $2,000 Tuesday by Federal Judge Archie O. Dawson for perjury in lying before a Special Federal Grand Jury investigating racketeering in the garment and trucking industries.
Courtney, of 109-20 71st road, Forest Hills, Queens, operator of the Courtney Trucking Co. at 202 W. 36th street, was convicted on 10 counts of perjury last June 11 after a seven-day trial.
He had been charged with lying in explaining how he disposed of $395 to various workers in the garment district during a one-week period.
Before sentence was imposed, Asst. U. S. Atty. Herbert M. Wachtell told the court: "This is not a case of an innocent victim fearing racketeers on one hand and the government on the other. He was a willing participant who cast his lot willingly with the underworld. He should be made an example of because no witness should be allowed to make a mockery of the courts."

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Dawson said, "this case should stand as an example that witnesses cannot flout a Grand Jury. Wilful perjury will not be tolerated."
Courtney was released on $7,500 bail pending appeal.

C of C Final Meeting

The Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary recently held its last meeting of the season at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Robert Gardiner, the newly-elected Jaycee president for the coming year. The other new officers assuming duties were Mrs. Malcolm Hammond, vice president; Mrs. Robert Carlson, recording secretary; Mrs. William Sheldon, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Abe Trowbridge, treasurer.

It was decided at the meeting to contact the YMCA in regard to sending two boys to the Day Camp again this summer.

Plans are also being completed under the direction of Mrs. Donald Sweeney for the sale of hand-painted boxes containing recipes. The sale will be conducted in the fall.

Mrs. Malcolm Hammond reported on activities at the Cerebral Palsy Clinic, where several Jaycees have been assisting nurses and doctors in the Well Baby Clinic weighing and measuring babies.

The Jaycees will continue making bandages for the Cancer Society throughout the summer. Past President Mrs. Chester Diffley reported that over 50 dozen bandages have been completed thus far with many Jaycee members assisting with the project.

The Appropriations Committee announced that the benefiting organizations from some of the Jaycee projects during the past year were the Children's Library, the Children's Home, and the Cerebral Palsy Clinic. A total of $300 was distributed to those groups.

Approximately 20 new members joined the organization during the year and all wives of members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are invited to attend this coming fall.

Bridal Shower Given
For Sharon Lease

Miss Sharon V. Lease of Ulster Park was tendered a bridal shower by a group of her friends on June 27 at the Watson Hollow Inn in West Shokan. Miss Lease is engaged to Edward Menard and they will be married Friday at the St. James Methodist Church in Kingston.

The shower gift was delightfully presented by having Miss Lease follow a parol trail to a table completely set with the Coronado pattern of Franciscan ware. The names of the girls had all been inscribed on an autograph book as a good luck charm for the bride and groom.

Among those who attended were Jane Griffin, Audrey L'Abbe, Margaret George, Virginia Ormond, Loretta Williams, Alice More, Mary Jannini and Blanche Cartier, all of Kingston; Virginia Cooper, Woodstock; and Madelyn Tamburo of Hudson.

Ahavath Israel Holds
Installation Ceremony
For Its New Officers

Formal installation of officers of Congregation Ahavath Israel for the term 1957-58, held on June 23 was attended by nearly 150 members and friends.

Ben Miller of Ellenville installed each officer individually by describing their duties in the conduct of the business and welfare of the congregation, by pointing up the qualities that make for a successful officer, and by wishing them a pleasant and progressive term in their office. To the congregation, Mr. Miller warned that without their steady support and attendance at all business and religious occasions, even the best of leadership will fail.

Benjamin Schechter, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Edward Koblenz who delivered in inspiring message. He reminded the congregation that the conservation movement in Judaism has adopted orthodox ritual and the traditional customs and laws and adapted them to modern American living. By so doing, Conservative Judaism thrives in America and is now the fastest growing Jewish religious group.

President Larry Jacobs, speaking for himself and his newly installed officers, promised a faithful and industrious term for the benefit of the social, educational and religious affairs of the congregation.

Rabbi Jacob Rubenstein delivered the benediction and gave his blessings to the leadership and to the congregants.

A splendid buffet was served by the Sisterhood to complete the evening program.

Empire Festival
Opens Tomorrow

The third annual Empire State Music Festival will open at 8:30 p. m. Thursday under the tent at Ellenville with approximately 5,000 people expected for the opening program, a festival spokesman said today.

The campaign for $50,000 among businessmen and hotel owners in Ulster and Sullivan counties has apparently gone over the top, it was reported.

Four top New York city critics are expected for the opening, according to the festival management.

The box office, with two persons at the counter and one on the telephone, have been continuously busy this week and sales are well ahead of last year, it was said.

There are 4,000 seats inside the big tent and 2,000 on the perimeter outside. There are still a few of these seats available. In addition, the festival is also selling tickets to music lovers who would like to sit on the grass outside the tent.

The festival opens tomorrow night with Igor Markevitch as conductor of a Beethoven-Brahms program. It will run through July 28, featuring among others Leopold Stokowski, Heitor Villa-Lobos, Jose Limon, a dance-drama, "Emperor Jones," and the Royal Danish Ballet.

The opening program will consist of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony and Brahms' "Alto Rhapsody." Soloist will be Graf, Forrester, Petrak and Scott with Markevitch conducting. The same program will also be presented at a Sunday matinee.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, July 5, 6 and 7, the famed Royal Danish Ballet will be featured. On July 5, in addition to the ballet, a Tchaikovsky program will be presented. On July 6 Danish favorites, including Coppelia, will be offered, and on July 7 Continental favorites with Robert Zeller as conductor and Inga Sand as art director.

"Elektra" with full stage production will be presented Thursday, July 11, Saturday, July 13, and Friday, July 19.

On Friday evening, July 12, and Sunday, July 14, "Emperor Jones" will be presented by Jose Limon & Co.

On Thursday, July 18, and Saturday, July 20, Stravinsky's "Canticum Sacrum" will be presented in its Eastern premiere and Orff's "Carmina Burana" with Stokowski conducting.

There will be symphony concerts on July 21 and 28, soloists and conductors to be announced. "Madame Butterfly" will be presented July 25 and July 27. A ballet is scheduled July 26.

Miss Suzanne Jeanne Hoveling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Hoveling, 223-01 100th drive, Queens Village, L. I., became the bride of John LeBrun Barmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Barmann of Stone Ridge, Saturday, June 22, at 11 a. m. in the Queens Village Reformed Church.

The Rev. Lavern J. Vander Hill officiated at the ceremony. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Stewart Manor Country Club in Stewart Manor, L. I. The newlyweds then departed on a wedding trip to Canada.

The bride is a graduate of Andrew Jackson High School and attended New Paltz State Teachers College.

Mr. Barmann graduated from Kingston High School and attended Harpur College in Binghamton. He is a former marine.

Manuel Gayol Will
Be at Woodstock
Gallery Saturday

Manuel Gayol will return to the Polari Gallery, Route 212, Woodstock, to give a recital of the classic guitar on Saturday, July 6, at 8:30 p. m.

This will be his third appearance at the gallery, having given two sellout performances last season.

Mr. Gayol has been proclaimed by the New York Times, Herald Tribune and other leading newspapers.

The concert, in two parts with one intermission, will include pieces by Heitor Villa-Lobos, Carulli, Sor, Robert de Visce and Napoleon Coste.

"The music presented in the program was written specifically for the classic guitar."

The milk bottle was invented by a doctor in Potsdam, New York, in 1884, and the paper milk carton was patented in 1906.

THIS 'N' THAT
One hundred eighty-one years ago, July the Fourth rolled round. And freemen, flushed with freedom's glow, heard a most welcome sound: The deep tones of a mighty bell-solemn, majestic, grand. Hark! how those vibrant echoes tell of one united land. Liberty Bell, your notes rang true upon that far-off day. Oh! may we keep the faith they knew, who forged you in the fray. The men who fell at Lexington or fought at Concord Bridge. Who, though outnumbered scorned to run on Bunker's bloody ridge. Liberty Bell! Ring for us now. In this, our time of need. And keep us true to freedom's vow, in thought and word and deed. —Karl Flaster.

Happy Holiday
Now Independence Day is quiet, And I'm the happy gainer. For with no firecracker diet The Fourth and I are saner. —Louise Darcy.

I know not what course others may take, but, as for me, give me liberty or give me death.—Patrick Henry.

Census Taker — Your age, please?
Woman—Well, let me figure it out. I was 18 when I married and my husband was 30. He is now 60, or twice as old as he was then, so I am now 36.

Peace, Sweet Peace
Young boys, I know, would not support me, They'd disagree, I'll not deny. But I can't help it: I proclaim it. I like a quiet Fourth of July. —Louise Darcy.

From the Columbus, Ohio, Citizen: "This was the Junior Class annual squirmish with drama."

Play Safe While You Drive!

Keep alert—chew gum

Avoid traffic jitters and driving drowsiness. Chew gum while you're behind the wheel. Chewing helps relieve strain and tension—helps keep you feeling fresh and alert for safer driving. Chew any brand of gum you like but chew while you drive. Naturally, we recommend Wrigley's Spearmint Gum—for lively, satisfying flavor and real chewing enjoyment.

The town's new doctor was busy hammering up his shingle when the town's oldest resident came along and watched for a moment or two.

The old man shook his head sadly and said: Old Man—Yer a right nice lookin' chap, doc, but I'm afeared you ain't goin to do much good around here. Why, this town's so healthy we couldn't start a cemetery until the other doctor starved to death.

Friend—Why are you so jubilant?

BRIDGE

Good Play and Luck Net Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Walter Schaefer of New York writes: "When my partner rebid his spades for the third time I gave up the struggle to play my own club suit. If West had been willing to take a moderate profit there would be no story but West chose to double. I knew his doubles of old and ran out to six clubs. My partner looked mad but decided to let me suffer and passed. East doubled and West opened the queen of diamonds.

"I won in dummy, led the singleton club and finessed the ten. I played the ace of clubs and West showed out. A successful spade finesse came next and I played dummy's ace of spades. East ruffed and I overruffed. Now I was able to pick up East's trumps and get one heart discard on dummy's long diamond. I lost a heart at the finish but made the doubled slam. Just how lucky was I?"

Mr. Schaefer was very lucky in that West's singleton diamond happened to be the queen. The successful finessses in spades and clubs weren't really luck; they were good plays.

Mr. Schaefer was also lucky in finding a nice friendly opponent like West to double the ridiculous five-spade contract and give him a chance to get back to clubs.

Finally Mr. Schaefer was lucky that his partner did not run out to six no-trump. North was obviously a hand hog. Such players believe that a five-card suit in their own hand must be better than a six or seven-card suit in partner's hand.

Six no-trump will make against any defense but I doubt that North would have worked

Gardner One-Hits Harlem Valley, 7-0, for Kingston BRL Stars

Local Club Plays At Dietz Tonight With Saugerties

Paul Gardner got the Kingston Babe Ruth League All Stars off winging in the District Six tournament by pitching a masterful one-hitter against Harlem Valley for a 7-0 triumph yesterday at Cantine Field in Saugerties.

The victory set the stage for tonight's encounter at Dietz Stadium between the local Saugerties and Saugerties. Game time is 8:45. Manager Ed Jordan announced that either Chick Boice or Mike Spada would start on the mound against the Saugerties stars.

Steals Show

Gardner, a 15-year-old right-hander, stole the show in Kingston's bow in BRL tourney play. He held the Dutchess county team hitless for five and one-third innings before pinch hitter Gene Eglin broke the spell with a single. After that, he allowed just three runners to reach base—all on walks.

For the first three innings, Gardner battled Rich Parson in a tense scoreless duel. But in the fourth, the locals broke through. For insurance, Kingston added three more in the sixth and one in the last frame.

Gardner Fans Five

Gardner struck out five the same as Parson. Dick Shultz, who replaced Parson, fanned one. Jordan and coaches Jules Albertini and Bud McCordie were naturally, highly pleased with Gardner's performance and also with the entire team which displayed tremendous confidence in their initial tourney competition. The club had plenty of backing from a goodly throng of local fans who made the trek to Saugerties.

IBC Granted 60 Days to File Ryan's Decision

New York, July 3 (AP)—The International Boxing Club was conducting business at the same old stand today and will continue to do so until at least Nov. 1, courtesy of Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan.

Judge Ryan yesterday ordered Jim Norris and Arthur Wirtz, the two top wheels in the IBC, to break up the club, but granted them a four-month stay to enable them to appeal to the Supreme Court.

"Our present thinking is that we will appeal," said Norris.

Judge Ryan said that the IBC must file for the review within 60 days or the government could nullify the stay he granted. Norris wasted no time agreeing to have his attorneys ask for the review.

Details Conditions

Most of the final judgment comprised the findings that Judge Ryan had previously announced when he found the IBC guilty of monopoly.

His orders to Norris and Wirtz were as follows:

Divest themselves of all their Madison Square Garden stock within five years.

Resign as officers and directors of the Garden within 30 days.

Divorce themselves completely from the Garden.

Dissolve the IBC of New York and Chicago.

Forbade them to hold exclusive contracts with fighters.

Permitted them to run only two championship fights a year for the next five years.

Middlecoff Dawdles to 72 British Golfers Trailing Him Will Lodge Complaint

St. Andrews, Scotland, July 3 (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, two-time American Open golf champion, shot a par 72 today in the first round of the British Open championship over the St. Andrews Old Course.

Middlecoff, who barely qualified yesterday with 148, one stroke under the limit, shot 35-37-72 today to assure himself of a place among the early leaders. The qualifying scores do not count in deciding the championship.

A brisk wind off the North Sea made the back nine at least two shots harder than the front today. And after two days of fine, warm weather, a chilly haze hung over the Old Course.

K. A. MacDonald of England took the lead among the early finishers in the first round with a 69 and Gary Player, the young South African who played the American pro circuit during the winter and spring, had a 71.

Par for the rugged 6,996-yard Old Course is 36-72.

YMCA Small Fry League Set for Saturday Opener

YMCA's Small Fry baseball league launches a six-week schedule Saturday, July 6, at the Athletic Field.

Three games will be played every Saturday morning under the direction of Frank (Doc) Rebollo, the YMCA's youth director, and Lou Schaler.

Six team names chosen after the practice rounds are Dodgers, Giants, White Sox, Indians, Pirates and Yankees. The teams will be outfitted in caps and jerseys. The Small Fry trophy will be awarded to the championship team at a dinner on August 31.

The team rosters follow:

British Brass Seeks More U. S. Stars for Open

St. Andrews, Scotland, July 3 (AP)—Pressure is building up to "save" the famed old British Open tournament—the oldest national championship in golf—by attracting more stars from the United States.

"And I mean stars," said N. C. Selway, chairman of the Royal and Ancient championship committee today, as the tournament proper got under way. "We want at least a half-dozen of the top U. S. players every year. They are the lifeblood of the tournament."

He added that the prize money must be increased and the date changed.

To Boost Prize Money

There is definite sentiment for upping the ante (top prize now is only $2,800), but all efforts to move the tournament back to September when it won't conflict with the U. S. summer circuit have failed.

Before World War II, the tournament annually drew all the top Americans.

An average of only one or two top-line U. S. players have been in the tournament in the past 10 years. This year's best is Cary Middlecoff, the golfing dentist from Memphis and runner-up in the U. S. Open.

Middlecoff, who has been bothered by a cold, qualified yesterday by the narrowest of margins. He went around the old course in 73 for a two-day qualifying total of 148, getting in by just one stroke.

Other Americans who qualified were Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, with a 141; Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif., with a 148 and Frank D. Keck, an Air Force lieutenant from Champaign, Ill., with a 149.

The contest is part of the athletic program sponsored by the Olive Town Board. A game with Hurley is scheduled next week.

The Ashokan players are the older of two age groups, 9-12 and 13-15, who have been practicing for several days. Boys in the town interested in playing are asked to write James A. Dolce of Ashokan. Other teams in the same age group may call Mr. Dolce.

Plans for Girls

Plans for girls sports activities have been formulated by a committee headed by Mrs. Betsy Birmingham and Mrs. Emma Thorneil. The first meeting was held Monday for the girls 11 years and older.

Volley ball, badminton and table tennis are available to the girls thus far at the large field adjacent to the Birmingham residence in Ashokan. Girls of the area who are interested in the program may contact Mrs. Birmingham.

Americans Gain First Victory In Henley Races

Henley-on-Thames, England, July 3 (AP)—David Sperling and Louis McCagg, representing the Cambridge, Mass., Rowing Club, scored the first American victory in the Henley Royal Regatta today when they won impressively from Oxford City Rowing Club pair of Thomas Horne and W. K. Munsey in the silver goblet competition.

The Haverford (Pa.) school four-oared crew advanced to the second round of the Wyfold Challenge Cup event without racing. Haverford's scheduled opponent in the first heat, the London Rowing Club withdrew as the regatta got under way.

Sperling, a 22-year-old former Yale oarsman from Hamden, Conn., and McCagg, former Harvard stroke from Concord, Mass., were not extended and passed the finish line five lengths in the lead. Their time over the one mile, 550 yards course on the Thames River was eight minutes, 31 seconds.

Mackey Has 6-Hitter; Score 9 Runs in Second

The infant City Baseball League season is only four games old but Nadler Motors already are flashing the championship touch.

They unloaded a nine-run second inning and had Jim Mackey pitch a six-hitter to crush Ulster Electric Supply, 14 to 1, under the Dietz Stadium mazdas for their second straight victory.

Don Ferraro, the Nadler third sacker, paced a 14-hit assault on Johnny Acker, Jim Meceda and Jack Watzka with four singles in four trips, scored twice and stole a base.

Mackey struck out six and walked four and lost his shut-out in the second inning when he wild pitched Bill Olen home from third base. With two outs in the frame and two men on he got Hubie Barber on a fly to left and struck out Don McCaig.

Off and Flying

Nadlers racked up three fast runs on Acker in the first inning, when Medlock tripled behind Don Ferraro's single and a walk to Mackey. Medlock raced home with the third run on a wild pitch.

The Motormen routed Acker during the nine-run rally in the second inning when 13 batters went to the plate.

Watzka, who relieved Meceda during the uprising, pitched effective relief ball for the Ulsters, yielding only five hits and two earned runs in 4 1/3 innings. He walked two and fanned three.

Medlock cracked a single and a triple and knocked in three runs for Nadlers. Paul Gianuzzi had a pair of RBIs on two singles. Meceda doubled for the Ulster Electric.

The usual Thursday two-night doubleheader will not be played because of the holiday.

Ensign Lad Wins

Yonkers, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Ensign Lad, driven by Clint Hodgins, got up in the final strides last night to win the Elmont Pace before 18,739 at Yonkers Raceway. He beat the favored Mac's Dominion by a head. Battle Cry was third. Ensign Lad paced the mile in 2:07 and paid $10.20. It was his second victory in 10 starts this season.

Three Players Tie With 36 Nets at the Twaalfskill

Buffalo Golfer Leads U. S. Group

Buffalo, July 3 (AP)—Curt Siegel of the Park Club of Buffalo will lead the five sectional juniors who qualified for the U. S. Golf Assn. Junior championship July 16-20 in Norbeck, Md.

Seigel, 16, shot a three-over-par 75 on the 6,581-yard course at the Country Club of Buffalo. He fired a par 36 over the first nine but went three over for a 39 score on the back nine.

Second behind Siegel was Bill Conway Jr., of Orchard Park with 39-39—78. Conway was runner-up in last week's state Junior tournament.

Johnny Konsek, newly-crowned state Junior champion, was third. Konsek, plagued by a persistent hook, scored 39-40—79.

Buffalo Pin Tourney

Buffalo, N. Y., has been named the site of the 1959 Women's International Bowling Congress tournament, defeating Denver, 590 delegate votes to 213.

A three-way tie for first place with low net of 36 highlighted the White Elephant ladies day golf tournament at The Twaalfskill Club.

Dr. Shirley Collins, Mrs. Austin Boyd Jr. and Mrs. John Olivet tied at the magic figure.

The traffic jam for second place was even greater when four players posted identical net scores of 37. They are Mrs. Charles J. Turck, Mrs. William A. Kelly, Mrs. Elbert MacFadden and Mrs. George Chilson.

Play will start at 8 a. m. in the annual Invitational on Tuesday, July 9.

Prince Sub in Boston Bout

Boston, July 3 (AP)—Unbeaten welterweight Tony Veranis of Boston will be seeking his 19th straight victory July 11 when he meets substitute Irish Eddie Prince in a scheduled 10 round bout at Mechanics Building.

Prince, from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was put in the main event when Curly Monroe of Worcester notified matchmaker Sam Silverman he must attend the two week's summer camp with the Massachusetts National Guard.

Cyrus Hurls 1-Hitter to Pace VFW to 2-0 Win

Achieves Nod Over Bullocks' Corky Van Vliet

Jim Cyrus, the lanky six-foot plus pitcher the Veterans of Foreign Wars have been talking about, delivered a one hitter and struck out 11 yesterday to pace the Vets to a 2-0 victory over Corky Van Vliet and Bullocks in the Recreation Softball League.

Van Vliet, who has a no-hitter to his credit, was a stout adversary, yielding only three blows and striking out ten. The lone safety off Cyrus was a leadoff single by Percy Greene in the second inning.

Cyrus and Van Vliet battled through four scoreless innings before VFW garnered single tallies in the fifth and sixth frames. Joe Murkoff doubled and Joe Bell and Andy Petruski singled for the Vets.

Chappie's Hold Lead

Chappie's Taxi collected 16 blows off Tom Neal and Andy Spada to trounce Trailer Haven, 13-7, and boost their league-leading record to 11 wins and 2 defeats. Mel Schlanger and Walt Bigler collaborated for a nine-hitter against the Havens.

Bill Martini and Nick Nagele of Trailer Haven pounded home runs. B. Schlanger slapped a double and two singles for Chappie's. Mike Provenzano stroked three singles and Richie Nagele hit a single and triple.

Krovans enjoyed a five-run fifth inning to edge Hercules, 8-6, behind Nordstrom's four-hitter. Berardi and Sipperly hit home runs off Mike Meigle. Vince Clearwater's homer and J. Garrison's three singles accounted for the Hercules safeties.

Leverenz on Spree

Stan Kaplan pitched seven-hit ball and Will Leverenz smashed a single, double and homer as Ten Grand Tavern scored twice in the bottom of the seventh to nip Downtown S&A, 9 to 8. The S&A erupted for five runs in the top of the seventh to lead 8-7.

Spec Ebelheiser slammed a single, double and triple for Ten Grand. Savatky and Van Wageningen doubled.

NL Lineup Set

Alston Names 5 Braves To All-Star Game Squad

Cincinnati, July 3 (AP)—Manager Walter Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers dipped deep into the ranks of the Milwaukee Braves today as he completed selection of a National League squad that will meet American League players in the annual major league All-Star game at St. Louis on July 9.

Alston, as manager of the 1956 league champion Dodgers will pilot the All-Stars. He picked five Braves, including All-Star veteran pitcher Warren Spahn, to help make the National League squad.

Aaron in Right

Hank Aaron of the Braves already had been named by baseball Commissioner Ford Frick as right fielder in place of Wally Post of the Cincinnati Reds who led a fans' vote which Frick said was "unbalanced" by an avalanche of votes from Cincinnati.

Alston's selections, plus the fans' vote for Don Hoak of Cincinnati as the starting third baseman, gave the National League eight "freshmen," as far as All-Star competition is concerned.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals will be the starting first baseman.

The Milwaukee pitchers named by Alston were pitchers Lew Burdette and Spahn and infielders Eddie Mathews, Johnny Logan and Red Schoendienst.

Other Southpaws

Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies and Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants will be the other southpaws while the righthanders will be Burdette, Larry Jackson of the St. Louis Cardinals; Clem Labine of Alston's Dodgers and Jack Sanford of the Phils.

The starting outfield will be Aaron, Willie Mays of the Giants and Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds.

Supporting the starting field of Hoak, Roy McMillan and Johnny Temple of Cincinnati and Musial of the Cards will be Alston's selections of Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, Gil Hodges of the Dodgers and Logan, Schoendienst and Mathews of the Braves.

Ballarin Will Box Calhoun at Syracuse

Syracuse, July 3 (AP)—Germinal Ballarin of France will meet middleweight contender Rory Calhoun of White Plains in a television 10-rounder at the War Memorial Auditorium July 19.

The mustachioed Frenchman made his American ring debut Monday with a unanimous 10-round decision in New York over Bob Provizzi of Freeland Pa.

Calhoun fought to a 10-round draw with Joey Giambra here June 21.

Promoter Norm Rothchild announced the pairing yesterday.

Race of Musical Chairs

Redlegs Regain First Place By Half-Game Over Braves

(By The Associated Press)

This changeable National League baseball race gets more like the weather all the time. If you don't like the way things are going, stick around a few minutes.

No one's settled in the NL's top perch long enough to get the seat warm and, with seven changes in the last month alone, no one is likely to.

Cincinnati's there now after a three-week absence, the result of an 8-6 victory over Chicago yesterday afternoon coupled with Milwaukee's 4-2 loss last night to Von McDaniel, fabulous teen-ager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

But the Braves, trailing by a half game, are matched with the Redlegs in Cincinnati tonight and could move back up by winning. St. Louis is just a game behind after 18-year-old McDaniel's fourth straight and Brooklyn, a 6-0 winner over the New York Giants behind 40-year-old Sal Maglie, has a 2½ game deficit. Fifth place Philadelphia, idle with Pittsburgh yesterday, is only four games back.

Yanks 2 Games Up

There's no such immediate complication in the American League with the leading New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox still two games apart after winning again and the closest of the trailers, Boston and Cleveland, eight games off the pace.

Both the Yanks and White Sox came from behind Tuesday, the Yanks beating pesky Baltimore 6-4 on Gil McDougald's two-run, 11th inning double for Whitey Ford's second relief triumph in two days, and the White Sox downing Detroit, 4-2 for Billy Pierce's 11th as a result of Larry Doby's three-run homer in the eighth.

Boston edged Washington 2-1 to take over third place by a .005 percentage from Cleveland, which was idle along with Kansas City.

For a time last night it appeared that McDaniel, signed out of high school for $50,000 six weeks ago, would make his first three major league triumphs tame by comparison to his fourth. Von had a perfect game for six innings, retiring the first 18 batters to face him, before Bill Bruton led off the seventh with a single. Three more hits produced two runs and when the youngster gave up another hit in the eighth, Hoyt Wilhelm came in from the bullpen to close out the last two innings.

4-Hitter for Maglie

Maglie, pitching for the first time since Memorial Day, fired a four-hitter at his ex-mates in recording his 24th major league shutout and the Dodgers' second straight blanking of the Giants. It was the third victory for Sal, in and out with injuries all season. Curt Barclay lost it for New York, now runless in 22 consecutive innings.

The Yanks, 17-3 in their current drive, rallied twice to tie Baltimore before McDougald's clutch hit in the 11th. The Yanks, 17-3 in their current drive, rallied twice to tie Baltimore before McDougald's clutch hit in the 11th. The Yanks, 17-3 in their current drive, rallied twice to tie Baltimore before McDougald's clutch hit in the 11th.

Sammy White did Boston's clutch hitting to back up Frank Sullivan's six-hit, eight strikeout performance against the Senators. The tall catcher, drove in the first run with a single and the winner with a sacrifice fly.

Late Rally Wins

The Rotary trimmed the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 6-3, yesterday in a game protested by the Vets. The Babe Ruth League encounter was halted after six innings because of the 8:30 p. m. deadline for ending twilight games.

Manager Norm Niles filed the protest in the fifth inning following a dispute with the plate umpire. The difference of opinion arose over a pitched ball which touched the umpire.

The Vets had runners on second and third when a delivery from Mike Kieffer eluded catcher Terry Kelly and grazed the ump. Niles claimed the ball was still in play and thus the runners were entitled to move. The umpire saw things another way and ruled the ball dead and returned the runners to their original bases.

Drug Affliction Is Portrayed in Woodstock Play

Woodstock, July 3—The harrowing ramifications of drug addiction, when the dread affliction strikes a member of a family, are explored in the season's opener at the Woodstock Playhouse. There were audible gasps heard throughout the audience as the dramatic theme unfolded Tuesday night, to the final heart-rending climax. It is in essence the pathetic story of a war veteran, Johnny Pope, played with wrenching sincerity by Tom Troupe, who in the course of recovering from wounds and a terrible battle experience, becomes a "junkie." Only his brother knows of his affliction and in misguided loyalty helps him to keep supplied with the "stuff."

Carlton Colyer is the appealing Polo Poyle trapped in the dilemma.

Tragedy Followed Death
The two brothers, whose real tragedy began with the early death of their mother and the attempts of their helpless father, John Pope Sr., played by Sy Kalan, to care for them.

Johnny has married a fine girl, Celia, portrayed with desperate sincerity by Betty Lou Robinson, who searches patiently for the underlying cause of the change in his behavior. Polo, Johnny and Celia, who is expecting a baby, live together in the cramped little apartment, and their father arrives for a visit and to obtain a loan for his own business project.

The life of the little family is overshadowed by the quartet of "pushers," demanding their money or withholding the desired drug. Joe Masset is the sinister "Mother" leader of the deviated group, Anthony Holland is the vacuous "Apples," Mark Barkan is "Chuck" and Jordan Charney, simply "A Man." Phyllis Wynn is the stray "Putski" also sucked into this worst of "never never lands."

They succeed in providing one of the evening's highlights—macabre and frighteningly funny—as each one, after a particularly virulent dose of the "stuff," takes off on his own happy cloud. After this spectacle a roaring drunk scene seems fairly healthy and juvenile.

This is not a play for the squeamish. It tells its story in a series of jolts, cruel and starkly frank. Yet it offers at the same time hope and a solution, because in the final analysis the victim has the one precious element in life—the complete love and ultimate understanding of his family.

The intricate set was designed by Robert Barnes, and the production was under the direction of Cyril Simon who returns for his second year as director of the Playhouse.

Next week the Woodstock Playhouse will offer the witty comedy "The Reluctant Debutante," which deals with the shrewd campaign of a mother and father to get their daughter to the altar. It opens Tuesday, July 9.

Althia Advances
Wimbledon, England, July 3 (AP)—Althia Gibson of New York and Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., the top-seeded women's doubles team, smashed into the semi-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships today with an easy 6-3, 6-0 victory over Angela Mortimer and Pat Hird of Britain.

Another U. S. team, Mimi Arnold of Redwood, Calif., and Karol Fageros of Miami, Fla., lost to Mexico's port Yola Ramirez and Rosa Maria Reyes 8-6, 6-3.

43,000 Cases of Measles
Belgrade, July 3 (AP)—A measles epidemic has hit Yugoslavia. The Federal Health Office today reported more than 43,000 cases registered. This time last year there were about 10,000.

FBI Is Warning Motorists Against Giving of Rides

Washington, July 3 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover noted today that the vacation season, with the usual increase in hitchhiking, is here again. He offered this advice to motorists: "Don't pick up trouble!"

"The beckoning thumb of the hitchhiker can be a lure to disaster in disguise," Hoover said in a signed editorial in the July issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin.

During this vacation season countless citizens and families traveling across the nation's highways will be invited to play a fateful game of chance with hitchhikers—with life and death the possible stakes.

Poster With Message
The bulletin carries an illustration of a poster which the FBI said it would supply to police agencies at no cost. It depicts a young man hitchhiking a ride with a family group. The image of death is superimposed over the illustration and the poster carries this legend over Hoover's signature:

"The American motorist: 'Don't pick up trouble! Is he a happy vacationer or an escaping criminal—a pleasant companion or a sex maniac—a friendly traveler or a vicious murderer? In the gamble with hitchhikers your safety and the lives of your loved ones are at stake. Don't take the risk!'"

Notes Shooting of Five
Hoover recalled that only a few years ago a hitchhiker shot and killed a family of five and dumped their bodies in an abandoned mine shaft near Joplin, Mo.

"The hitchhiking menace, a growing product of our automotive age, has been nurtured by the American tradition of extending a helping hand," Hoover said in the editorial.

"It is almost unbelievable that the average citizen, who carefully takes precautions against allowing strangers into his home, will frequently give so little thought to picking up trouble in the person of the unknown wanderer."

The human body contains a little more than seven pounds of blood for every 100 pounds of body weight.

Egypt Votes Today

Cairo, July 3 (AP)—Without a ripple of excitement, a heavy turnout of Egyptians voted today to elect a Parliament hand-picked by President Nasser to give his military-dominated regime a more civilian face. It was Egypt's first parliamentary election in seven and a half years. The legislature elected in 1950 was suspended in 1952, after the military overthrew King Farouk.

Valatie Man Dies
Hudson, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Ellsworth McCoon, 75, died today in a hospital of burns suffered Saturday in a fire at his home at Valatie. Authorities said McCoon, an invalid, had fallen asleep while smoking. The cigarette ignited the mattress and the resulting fire damaged the bedroom and other parts of the apartment, where he lived with his wife, Catherine, also 75.

Steel Workers Still Out at IBM Laboratory

Steel workers are still struck today at the new laboratory under construction at the Kingston plant of International Business Machines, Corp.

A labor spokesman said, however, that there were only a handful of men involved.

"There can't be more than four," he told The Freeman. The workers are members of the Iron Worker's Union which walked out Monday night in the metropolitan area in a contract dispute.

No other area projects are affected by the strike, according to information received by The Freeman.

Metropolitan steamfitters and sheet-metal workers also struck on Monday.

An IBM spokes told The Freeman Tuesday that struck steel men were those working on caisson and the foundational structures at the new laboratory. He said construction was moving ahead, however.

Fair, Warm Forecast for State Holiday

Albany, N. Y., July 3 (P)—The long July 4th weekend will be generally fair and warm, with occasional showers likely, the weather bureau said today.

Temperatures will range into the 80s during the days, and overnight lows will be mostly in the 60s, the bureau predicted.

Scattered showers and thundershowers were forecast for late afternoon and early evening periods through most of the weekend.

Eastern New York can expect an increase in humidity after a week of unusually cool and windy weather.

The weather bureau said the total rainfall over the weekend would be less than a half-inch in eastern New York and about a half-inch in the western part of the state.

More Humid Weather Due in 5-Day Period

Albany, N. Y., July 3 (P)—The extended weather forecasts for New York state prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7:30 p. m. today to 7:30 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York—Summertime weather most of the period, with warming trend at the beginning and likely turning cooler over the weekend. Widely scattered afternoon or evening thundershowers are likely Thursday through Saturday. Rainfall will be spotty and average under one-half inch. Temperatures will average about 3 degrees above normal and more humid weather is expected.

Western New York—Changeable weather is likely with temperatures averaging near or slightly above normal. Warm with changeable skies and scattered showers or thundershowers until about Saturday. Clearing and cooler Sunday and Monday. Total precipitation about one-half inch.

Temperature normals—Normal daytime high temperatures for New York state now range in the upper 70s to lower 80s. Overnight lows are mostly in the 58-64-degree range.

Must Reconsider Denial

Washington, July 3 (P)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today must reconsider its denial of a passport to Donald Ogden Stewart, author and playwright.

The writer denied he had had any Communist connections in the last 15 years but his passport application was turned down because he refused to say whether he had ever been a Communist. Five of the court's nine judges voted to affirm an order by U. S. Dist. Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut sending the case back to the State Department for consideration on its merits.

Spots Girl's Body

Grants Pass, Ore., July 3 (P)—A low-flying airplane yesterday ended a massive four-day search when it spotted the body of Cheryl Lea Johnston floating in the Rogue River near this southern Oregon town. About 2,000 persons had searched for the girl since she disappeared Saturday from a picnic grounds along the stream. Her body was recovered about three miles downstream from where she had been attending a children's picnic. She was dressed in a bathing suit.
